State Asks Ban on Swimming In Reservoir

OK On Fishing Sought

Council to Set Regulations

Swimming at Clear Fork reservoir should be prohibited, but boating, fishing and a public park could be permitted if proper restrictions and regulations are enforced, the state health department informed Mayor Roy Vaughn today.

The Clear Fork reservoir operation was discussed with F. H. Waring, chief engineer of the department of health, at a meeting with city officials in Columbus last week.

Attending the conference with Waring were Mayor Vaughn. Safety - Service Director Earl Garrison, Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier, and Fifth Ward Councilman Fred Miller.

"The state health department has no rules or regulations governing a water supply reservoir," Mayor Vaughn said. "These rules and regulations will have to be worked out by council."

The city administration has not at this time committed itself as to whether any recreation will be permitted on the reservoir.

SPORTSMEN ACT

The Richland County Fish and Game association has prepared a set of suggestions for recreation at the reservoir and will present them to city council.

K. D. Woodman, chairman of a club committee which studied the project and prepared the suggestions, said the suggestions, along with a petition, would probably be presented to city council at its meeting tonight.

Fish and Game association officers met with council and state health department and state conservation department officials more than a year ago and discussed recreation at Clear Fork.

At that meeting E. L. Wycliff, representing the state conservation department, asked council to consider granting the state a 99-year lease under which the lake would be stocked with fish and maintained.

Fish and Game officials said they would ask council to accept that proposal.

Mayor Vaughn has said the Clear Fork was built for a water supply reservoir and all other uses of the area would be secondary.

He said many cities in Ohio permit no recreation on water supply lakes.

Fish and Game association members point to Wellington and Shelby water supply lakes where fishing is permitted. Metal receptacles have been placed on the grounds for disposing of empty bait cans and other refuse.

The health department's view is: "Limited recreational use of the reservoir may be permitted if proper restriction and regulations are enforced. Such recreational use may include fishing, boating, and selected areas around the reservoir may be used as a public park and the public should be restricted to such area."

Charge Reveals Tax 'Chiseling'

BALTIMORE, Md. — (UP) — Kinsey H. Dillon, 55-year-old former government income tax auditor, was under indictment by a federal grand jury today for income tax evasion.

He was accused of evading payment of $4,819 in income taxes in 1945 and 1946 while he was employed in checking reports of income tax evasion.

Gamblers Fight Wright

Mansfield's gambling "fraternity" is out to fight First Ward Councilman Thomas B. Wright in his campaign for the Republican nomination for mayor, The News-Journal learned today.

Although Wright has made no public statement against gambling, the operators of Mansfield's major rackets appear to have got an increasing case of jitters since last week when more than 50 of Wright's friends announced that a house-to-house campaign will be conducted, reaching every GOP home in the city before the May 3, primary.

"Word has gone out," The News-Journal was reliably informed, "to fight Wright with money and votes."

"The word" has been passed around among the operators of the horse race bookie on South Main street, the dice game on North Park street, and the three numbers racket proprietors. Orders were to "kick in, and get your men working".

Wright is opposing Mayor Roy W. Vaughn in the Republican primary. Under the present administration gambling has operated openly and without police interference except for a few minor arrests, since April 1, 1948. There was a brief two-month crackdown prior to that period.

C. O. Anglin, candidate for the Democratic mayoral nomination, is unopposed.

Man Cited In Car Theft

A 21-year-old ex-Mansfield reformatory inmate was charged today with auto theft from the Mansfield Auto Sales, 220 Ashland road.

Fred O'Keefe, alias Theodore Joseph O'Keefe, of Robert street, who allegedly drove off with a 1941 sedan from the sales lot while a salesman left to answer a telephone call Monday afternoon, will appear before Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler at 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said the formal charge entered against O'Keefe was operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. O'Keefe was held in county jail today.

Sheriff's Deputies Foster Palmer and Randall Bliss, who apprehended O'Keefe at his rooming house late yesterday, said they had received a "tip" that they could find the car, taken from the lot, in Hancock Heights off Olivesburg road. They said they recovered the car and then arrested O'Keefe on information from the "tip-off".

Deputies said O'Keefe admitted taking the car.

OSR officials reported that O'Keefe, listed on their files as "Theodore O'Keefe", was released from the reformatory on March 1 at the expiration of a one-to-age sentence from Columbiana county for theft. O'Keefe was received at the reformatory on Nov. 20, 1945 as a juvenile delinquent.

Dealer Buys Jewel 'Curse'

NEW YORK — (UP) — The fabulous 44½ carat Hope diamond, with its legend that its curse has caused the violent deaths of several of its owners, passed today into the hands of Harry Winston, New York jewel merchant.

"I'm not superstitious," Winston said. "As a matter of fact, I feel particularly happy today."

Winston bought the Hope diamond in a collection of jewels from the estate of the late Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean.

After Mrs. McClean acquired the gem in 1911 from Cartier, her son was killed in an automobile accident in 1918, her husband died and her daughter, Mrs. Robert R. Reynolds, was the victim of an overdoes of sleeping pills.

BULL KILLS FARMER

DAYTON — (AP) — Eighty-year-old Charles F. Marion was gored to death by a bull on the farm of his son near here.

HOSPITAL TRAGEDY—Death toll in the flash fire which swept St. Anthony's hospital, Effingham, Ill., rose to an estimated 80 today as searchers continued to probe the blackened ruins. Thirteen of those killed were new-born babies. Forty-six bodies have been identified and 34 persons are still missing. Top photo shows the flaming building. Mrs. Arnold Aderman, 24, holds her son close (right) as her husband looks on. She was in the hospital when the fire struck and was removed to a nearby home where she was delivered a son.

Ministers Meet On West Germany

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Foreign ministers of the big three western powers meet here today to pave the way for establishment of a western German state.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were to begin their discussions at the State department this morning. The talks will continue tormorrow and Friday, and possibly longer, diplomatic sources said.

These informants said the agenda includes two main topics:

1. Economic and administrative fusion of the French zone with the Anglo-American zone, expected within the next three months.

2. Agreement on a "peace statute," outlining the powers to be given the proposed state and the powers reserved for the occupation forces which will remain in Germany indefinitely.

April Rains To Continue

Additional showers are forecast for tomorrow despite a brief halt today, the U. S Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures climbed toward the 50-degree mark yesterday with a 47 recorded at 2:30 p. m.

Rainfall in the 24 hours ended at 7:30 a. m. today was reported at .28 of an inch by the Civil Aeronautics Authority at Municipal airport.

Today's low was 36 degrees at 6:30 a. m. The mercury rose to 36 degrees by 10:30 a. m. and was expected to go higher.

Forecasters said the present near-seasonal temperatures will continue through tomorrow when a warm-up is due.

Searchers Probe Ruins

Death Toll Climbs To 80 In Disaster

EFFINGHAM, Ill. —(AP)— The death toll in the nation's second most tragic hospital fire mounted to an estimated 80 today.

Forty-six of the victims of the fire which destroyed St. Anthony's hospital early Tuesday have been identified.

Thirteen were new-born babies.

As state and city fire officials attempted to determine the cause of the blaze, workers resumed the grim task of searching the ruins for bodies of 34 still reported missing.

National Guardsmen patrolled the hospital area and huge searchlights lighted up the blackened rubble still believed to be concealing the bodies of many victims.

Only the naked walls of the three and a half story brick building stood.

The number of dead in the terrifying midnight fire had been estimated yesterday at 65 by the hospital registrar, Miss Helen Wiseman. However, 15 additional bodies which had been removed to hospitals and undertaking establishments in nearby communities after the blaze, were identified early today.

Records at the hospital were lost.

However, the hospital believed there were 124 persons —patients and staff members —in the 62-year-old institution, operated by the Catholic Order of St. Francis, when the fire broke out.

The number of survivors was estimated at 55 by the Red Cross.

Among the known dead were two nuns, the hospital's chaplain, and three nurses.

But Issue Bobs Up In Other Communities

City Expected to Escape Time Dispute

The daylight time issue was alive again today in many Ohio communities, but Mansfield is expected to escape the confusion that kept city council and most Mansfielders wondering through most of last spring.

Council has indicated that the daylight time issue will not be introduced this spring.

Several major skirmishes were fought over the question last year, and the measure was finally beaten by a legal technicality. Council later tried to get the measure put on the November ballot, but failed to obtain a sufficient number of valid signatures.

Daylight saving time as a state-wide proposition probably was killed yesterday by the committee on organization of state government in the House of Representatives.

A proposed constitutional amendment for state-wide daylight time was amended to eliminate the "saving" time and provide that the state and all political subdivisions observe Eastern Standard throughout the year. The entire committee recommended the amended bill for passage.

Charter cities have the right to regulate the time under which they operate.

City ordinances decree that Cleveland, Youngstown, Warren and some other northeastern Ohio spots move their clocks up an hour April 24, and leave them there until the last Sunday in September.

Akron, Canton, Massillon; East Liverpool, Salem, Steubenville and other points probably will follow that lead.

Retaining Eastern Standard time besides Mansfield, will be Cincinnati, Ironton, Van Wert, Toledo, Marion and Portsmouth. Columbus was expected to stick to its decision of the last few years and leave its clocks untouched.

Red Cross Goal Topped

Clean-up Meeting Set for Today

It's over the top for Mansfield and Richland county's Red Cross membership campaign.

Glenn L. Bierly, chairman of the drive announced today $49,010 has been collected. The goal was $48,358.

A "clean-up" meeting of the Red Cross workers will be held at the chapter house at 4:30 p. m. today to wind up drive business.

The drive was helped over the hurdle by Shelby's $800 over its goal as announced Saturday.

Monday's over all total was $47,471.61. The remaining $1,538.39 was collected since then.

Jurors Open Term May 3

The Richland county grand jury for the May term will convene May 3, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch said today.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said at least 12 cases are ready for presentation to the grand jurors.

Among the cases is that of William Lockridge, 32, of 834 North Main street, bound over from municipal court in the slaying of Clayton Luckie, 37, on the night of Feb. 7.

Lockridge has been held in the county jail since his arraignment in municipal court Feb. 12. Lockridge was booked by police on first-degree murder charges. He pleaded innocent in municipal court.

Luckie was shot on the stairs of the Paradise club, at 224½ North Main street.

The drawing of two petit juries and the grand jury for the May term of court will be held April 20.

Ex-Legislator Shot 3 Times

NEW YORK — (UP) — An unemployed marine engineering officer was held today for seriously wounding former Congressman Ellsworth B. Buck, R., N. Y., with three revolver shots while the Staten Island district attorney looked on.

Charles Van Newkirk, 58, of Amherst, N. H., brooding under the belief Buck had "ruined" his career, admitted firing his special .38 caliber target revolver at the prominent Republican from the steps of Richmond Xorough hall late yesterday.

He was charged with felonious assault and was ordered examined by two state psychiatrists.

UNEMPLOYMENT UPPED

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Unemployment in Cleveland zoomed to 40,000 during March, the Ohio State Employment service has disclosed.

Now Hair's A Problem For Warden

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Warden Ralph Alvis of Ohio penitentiary had to get a new barber today. His regular barber, a prisoner serving a life term for murder, walked away from the prison shop last night.

The shop in which Cloy Sims, 47, of Paden City, W. Va., did his barbering is located in the executive offices of the penitentiary.

Alvis said Sims walked away about 9 o'clock last night.

Job Survey Bill Before Council

Second Reading Due Tonight

A bill to authorize an evaluation survey of all municipal jobs by technical and professional engineers at a cost not to exceed $4,000 will be placed before city council a second time tonight.

The first reading of the bill was on Feb. 2. After three readings the bill will come up for a vote.

Findings of the job specialists will be used as a basis for a new city salary ordinance, councilman intimated when it first appeared.

City department heads have been clamoring for more than a year for a salary ordinance based on the findings of a professionally conducted job evaluation survey.

Last year each department head conducted such a survey in his own department and submitted it to the council salary committee for consideration.

ASKED STUDY

When the bill was first introduced at the February meeting, Councilman Harry Bowman, sponsor of the measure and Chairman of the Salary Committee, said he did not attempt to have the issue approved immediately because he wanted all of the councilmen to get a chance to study the proposal.

He said the reason he is in favor of the measure is twofold. His arguments are:

1. The only way to get an unbiased survey is to hire a disinterested person from out of town to examine the situation.

2. The survey will be economical for the city in the long run by increasing its efficiency. The report may suggest that certain jobs be eliminated, Bowman said.

Two Papers Idled After Labor Dispute

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Publishers of Washington's four daily newspapers, hit by a wildcat pressmen's work stoppage, said today they will not resume contract negotiations until the pressmen return to work.

The work stoppage was called unexpectedly last night by Local 6 of the International Printing Pressmen's union (AFL). It prevented publication this morning of two capital newspapers, the Washington Post and the morning editions of the Times-Herald, which publishes around-the-clock.

For the Post it was the first time it did not publish in its 71-year-history.

Fire Sweeps House, Four Persons Killed

CHICAGO — (UP) — Four persons died late last night when fire swept a fashionable home in suburban Northbrook.

Authrities identified the victims as Ward Clay, 43-year-old sales manager of the Crowell-Collier Publishing company; his wife, Floss, 40, and two infants, Bobby and Tommy McCracken, 2 and 1.

Reports On Germany

BERLIN — (INS) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay today reported new highs in western German unemployment, gains in production in certain key industries, and a continued drop in black market prices.

Aid Plan Debate In 11th Day

Lucas Predicts Summer Session

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The House Appropriations committee today voted $43,000,000 in emergency funds to keep the Berlin airlift going at top capacity through June 30.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Senate Democratic leadership angrily accused Republicans today of stalling on the Marshall plan renewal bill and other features of President Truman's program.

Floor Leader Scott W. Lucas said GOP policy chief Robert A. Taft, O., and other top Republicans "don't want to get anything done." He said the delay on foreign aid and other "must" legislation makes a special summer session almost inevitable.

The Marshall plan debate went into its 11th day with a final vote not yet at hand. Though Democratic leaders claimed to have the votes to assure eventual passage of the $5,580,000,000 authorization measure, they appeared powerless to force a quick showdown.

TOO 'RESTRICTIVE'

When the Senate wearily called it quits at 10:03 last night, a score of amendments remained on the docket. During yesterday's 11 - hour session, eight amendments were brought up. Most of them were rejected by administration forces, with some Republican help, on the ground that they were "too restrictive."

At one point in the debate, Lucas said the Senate would sit until daybreak, if necessary, to complete action on the pending amendments.

Later, he explained that several members had reminded him of an informal agreement made Monday that overtime sessions would break up by 10 p. m.

Before quitting time, Sen. William Langer, R., N.D., blocked Lucas' request for a limitation of debate. And Taft turned thumbs down on the Democratic leader's proposal that Senate rules be waived and five committees be allowed to sit during today's Senate session in order to expedite other business.

"The objections," Lucas said, "indicate to me that some of the leaders on the other side of the aisle (Republicans) don't want to get anything done. They never had as much trouble last year in getting unanimous consent agreements."

One Dead In Rail Mishap

DAYTON — (AP) — A collision with a truck derailed the locomotive and eight cars of a Baltimore and Ohio freight train today, killing a brakeman.

The body of Bernard Paul Smith, 35, of Wellston, Jackson county, was pinned in the cab of the locomotive for several hours.

The truck driver, Osborn O. Coleman, 39, of Indianapolis jumped to safety. Engineer W. H. Silvey, 48, Dayton, and Fireman F. T. Seaburg of Dayton rode the derailed locomotive to a halt. All three escaped injury.

"We were just going end after the collision," said Silvey. "All we could do was to hang onto each other."

Coleman said his brakes failed. He tried, then, to speed across the crossing ahead of the train. The train struck the truck trailer.

Several freight cars overturned.

Taxicab Strike Seen As Failure

NEW YORK — (UP) — John L. Lewis' six-day-old city-wide taxi strike appeared to be breaking up today. More cabs appeared on the streets and the union's organizing director resigned.

Leon Zwicker, regional director of the United Mine Workers who had been directing the strike, announced his resignation at the same time police reported that 40 per cent of the city's taxis were back in operation.

Spokesman for the taxi fleet operators, who have refused to recognize the union as the bargaining agent for 36,000 drivers and maintenance men immediately charged that Zwicker had been "purged" by Lewis because of the strike's failure.

Miss Bethel Bowers of Mexico Talks to Missionary Band

Miss Bethel Bowers of the Wycliffe Bible Translators was the guest speaker at the Ladies Missionary Prayer Band of The Gospel Center Church, which was held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Swank, 514 Johns avenue.

Miss Bowers gave an interesting talk about her work in Mexico where she is employed as a linguist. She told about the difficulties with the languages, in writing and speaking the different dialects. One word may have several different meanings, so the tonal quality must be emphasized in order to say the word correctly. She emphasized the fact that 1000 tribes are still without the Bible in their own language.

Mrs. Stanley Kelley gave the devotions, using as her theme, "Isaiah chapter 53." Then a short prayer service followed.

A duet in song, entitled, "Speak My Lord", was given by Mrs. William Sistek and Miss Anne Bell, with Mrs. Bruce Grunesisen at the piano.

Mrs. Clarence E. Hall, president, had charge of the business meeting. It was decided to roll bandages to send to Dr. and Mrs. Lambie, who are medical missionaries in Palestine. Twenty-five members were present. The complete offering was given to Miss Bowers.

The next monthly meeting will be held May 6 at the home of Mrs. D. J. Blakely, 1186 Ashland Road.

MANSFIELDERS TO HEAR NOTED OPERA STARS

DOROTHY KIRSTEN

ITALO TAJO

MARINA SVETLOVA

MANY MANSFIELD men and women will be in attendance tonight at the Metropolitan Opera's third presentation at Public Hall, Cleveland, this season. Verdi's "La Traviata" is a sell-out and features Licia Albanese as Violetta. The famed Metropolitan Opera Ballet will also be seen, starring Marina Svetlova, premiere danseuse.

Ticket holders for tonight's performance include Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Banks, Miss Joanne Banks, Miss Janet Banks, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Paste, Miss Charlotte Paste, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Keith, Mrs. Fred Herring, Miss Jean Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Galbraith, Miss Janice Snyder and party, George Miller, Mrs. S. C. Schiller, Mrs. Rose Ott, Mrs. Vickie Williams, Mrs. M. E. Pingel, Mrs. Jay Chubbs, Mrs. Bruce Rogers, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. William Droz, Mrs. E. M. Trout, Mrs. Ray Walters, Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. Adam Takos, Mrs. William Wiegang, Mrs. Glenn Lanning, Miss Alfaretta Bowden, Mrs. Marjorie Kelley, Mrs. Robert Brannon and Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Forster, besides the season ticket holders, previously mentioned.

One of the highlights of the opera this season is Italo Tajo (pronounced Tah-yo), whose rich bass voice and supreme acting in New York this season rated special features in "Life" and "News Week". He will make his Cleveland debut as Don Basilio in "The Barber of Seville" Saturday afternoon. Patrice Munsel will appear as Rosina in this opera.

Cio - Cio - San will flutter around the stage of Public Hall declaring her undying love for the heartless B. F. Pinkerton friday afternoon as Metropolitan presents Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" as the fifth performance of its 24th Cleveland season.

Dorothy Kirsten, who sang the same role on the same stage in 1947, will again be the pitiful little Japanese girl who lost her heart to the American naval officer. She will be remembered for her success as Mimi in "La Boheme" last year and as Marguerite in "Faust", which was in the 1947 season.

On Thursday evening the Mansfield list will include Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lime, Mrs. James Ramsey and daughter, Janis, Miss Esther Barnett, Miss Lucille Bushy, Mrs. F. H. McDowell, Mrs. T. P. Memo: TO THE PUBLIC
Re: VITAMIN CLAIMS

Millions of people are "taking vitamins." We realize that mere advertising claims for any vitamin product mean little. If your system needs vitamins, the benefits you get from them and how quickly you feel those benefits depend largely on the formula of the product and the potency, or strength, of the vitamins contained therein. Any physician can tell you this is true. That is why this ad invites you to try the RYBUTOL formula with any other.

Your Druggist Can Tell You—
THERE IS NO OTHER COMPARABLE PRODUCT SO COMPLETE in FORMULA, and SO HIGH in POTENCY, at SO LOW a PRICE!

HERE IS THE RYBUTOL FORMULA
COMPARE IT WITH ANY OTHER—
EACH RYBUTOL GELUCAP CONTAINS:

Vitamin B-1 (Thiamin Chloride)	15 Mg.	Liver Concentrate	175 Mg.
Vitamin B-2 (Riboflavin)	6 Mg.	Yeast Concentrate	175 Mg.
Vitamin B-6 (Pyridoxine)	0.5 Mg.	Iron Sulphate (Dry)	10 Mg.
Vitamin C (Ascorbic Acid)	50 Mg.	Choline Chloride	50 Mg.

Senior High Thinclads Swamp Akron In Rain

Tygers Take All 14 Events For 2nd Win

Mansfield Senior high school track and field artists sloshed through the rain and mud at Stadium field yesterday to swamp a veteran Akron Garfield thinclad aggregation, 101 4-15 to 16 11-15.

The under-classmen loaded Tygers swept all 14 first places to run up their second easy victory of the 1949 season and place themselves among the favorites for the 18th Mansfield Relays championship. In the individual events, six seniors, eight juniors, and two sophomores copped first places for Mansfield.

JUNIORS FEATURE

A pair of junior veterans—A. C. Jenkins and Tommy Tucker—were the big point producers but it remained for Senior Paul Hammond to cop the only close race of the meet. After Joe Vargo had led from the starting gun, Hammond made up a 15-yard deficit in the final lap of the mile to win by two yards.

Tucker, the little sprinter, took things easy in the oozy underfooting, but nabbed firsts in the century, furlong, broad jump and anchored the winning 880-yard relay team for the top total of 16¼ points. He didn't bother to remove his sweat pants in any event except the 100 as the cold and rain hindered all contestants.

Both hurdle races and the discus throw went to big "Sparky" Jenkins, who also is some shakes of a football and basketball player.

None of the other Bengal trackmen managed a pair of firsts as Hammond passed up his 880-yard specialty. Coach Harry Mehock gave some of his lesser lights a chance after the meet was under control.

Other Tyger victors were: Harry Osbun, shot; Done Cline, pole vault; Willie Fowler, high jump; Ophinel Davis, 440; Jim Hager, 880 and the two relay quartets. Hammond and Osbun were the senior winners while Hager and Davis topped the sophs.

The Tygers swept all three places in the 100, shot put, 440 and 880.

FERGUSON RESTS

Paul "Pinky" Ferguson, high jump and pole vault veteran, did not compete for Mansfield. He suffered a spike wound when the Tygers knocked off Columbus East in the seasonal opener last week, 92 to 36.

Saturday's meet with Canton McKinley has been shifted to the Stadium field cinders. The Bulldogs are touted as tough competition and the Tygers will have to step to keep their winning streak alive. The first event is slated for 1:30 p. m.

The summary:

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Jenkins (M), 2, Waldington (M), 3, Brown (A). Time—15 5 sec.

100-yard dash—Won by Tucker (M), 2, Carr (M) 3 Bailey (M). Time—10 1 sec.

Mile run—Won by Hammond (M), 2, Vargo (A), 3 Poorman (M). Time—4.51 9.

Shot put—Won by Osbun (M), 46 ft. 2¼ inches 2, Snider (M), 42-11, 3, Weaver (A), 40-4½.

880-yard relay—Won by Mansfield (Carr Bailey, Waldington and Tucker) Time 1 39 2

Pole vault—Won by Cline (M) 10 feet, tie for second Meister (M), Herbert (M), Hughes (A) and Burkholder (A) 9-9

440-yard dash—Won by Davis (M) 2 J Fowler (M), 3 Petty (M) Time—56 4 sec.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Jenkins (M), 2, Waldington (M), 3 Brown (A) Time—28 1 sec.

High jump—Won by W Fowler (M) 5-8, 2, Steele (A) 5-6 tie for 3 Shoulders (M), Waldington (M) and Beam (A) 5-4

880-yard run—Won by Hager (M) 2 Berkey (M) 3 Sheetz (M) Time—2.13 9

Discus throw—Won by Jenkins (M) 132 feet 5 inches 2 Hipp (M) 101 1 Burkholder (A), 93-10

220-yard dash—Won by Tucker (M) 2 Graham (A) 3 Carr (M) Time—27 9 sec.

Mile relay—Won by Mansfield (Petty, Wakeley, Kibler and J Fowler) Time—3 34

Owen Resumes His Testimony

SPRINGFIELD, MO. — (UP) — Mickey Owen, former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, resumed testimony today in the $127,500 damage suit filed against him by Jorge Pasquel, Mexican baseball promoter.

Pasquel claimed Owen jumped his Mexican baseball contract. In a $93,000 counter claim, the former big leaguer alleged Pasquel fired him as player-manager of the Vera Cruz club without "cause or justification."

The trial opened here yesterday with Owen first to testify. Pasquel was not in court. He was represented by Victor Harris, St. Louis lawyer

Arrive Today

CLEVELAND, — (INS) — Dynamite Dick Wagner of Portland, Ore., and Artie Levine of Brooklyn were to arrive in Cleveland today to engage in fama workouts before they meet at the arena Monday night in a 10-round feature bout

Giants' Siege Guns Level Cleveland Again, 8 to 4

HOUSTON, Tex. —(INS)— The Cleveland Indians encounter the New York Giants for the third time today at Houston in an effort to regain some of the prestige lost by two straight defeats at the hands of the "invaders from the east."

In the last few games, the Tribe's pitchers and hitters couldn't seem to combine their efforts in the same contest. When the Redskins were hitting, the pitchers were being blasted "all over the lot."

Yesterday's game at Lubbock, Tex., was a good example. The Indians collected 12 hits, including two homers, but were defeated, 8-4, as the Giant sluggers pounded 14 hits off Frank Papish and Mike Garcia.

WYNN AND PAIGE

Early Wynn, fireball artist obtained from Washington, and Satchel Paige were to do the pitching for the world champs today in an effort to snap their current losing streak.

New York scored at least one run in every inning up until the sixth, when they were stopped by Garcia. Papish gave up two runs in the first and second frames, and one each in the next two

Trailing 5-0 going into the fourth, the Indians came back with three runs on a walk by Manager Lou Boudreau, who collected a single in two trips to the plate, and homers by Vernon and Gordon. That was the end of the scoring for the Indians, however, until the ninth, when Milt Stockhausen and Ray Boone rapped a pair of doubles for the Indians final run.

Papish, who had not been effective in his last three trials, gave up nine hits and six runs in his four-inning stint. Garcia pitched the last five cantos and allowed two runs on five hits. He fanned five and walked two.

In addition to two hits by Vernon, Larry Doby collected a pair of doubles. Stockhausen a single and a double and Ray Boone and Bob Kennedy each rapaped one two-baser

Bobby Thomson was the big gun in the New York attack, batting in three runs with a single, double and a home run.

Favored Blue Peter Is Out Of 'Roses Run'

NEW YORK — (AP) — Blue Peter, the winter book favorite, is out of the Kentucky Derby and the spotlight shone a little stronger today on a pair of swift-footed colts named Olympia and Capot.

These two aspirants to three-year-old honors jumped into joint favor when Blue Peter's owner, Joseph M. Roebling, announced that an internal aliment would keep his stout contender out of the "Run of the Roses" May 7.

Roebling said War Admiral's son, the two-year-old champion of 1948, had turned up with an ailment similar to appendicitis in human beings. But horses don't have an appendix. The technical term of the malady is impacted caecum.

"We do not plan to start him in the Wood Memorial race here, the Derby or the Preakness in Baltimore," the owner added. "If he continues to improve he may be ready for the Belmont Stakes in June."

Blue Peter was the Kentucky Derby favorite at 3-1. Right behind him at 4-1 came Olympia, owned by Fred Hooper jr., and the Greentree stable's Capot.

Blue Peter won eight of his ten starts last year to take juvenile honors. He won the Futurity at Belmont and the Hopeful stakes at Saratoga to earn a total for the year of $189,185

The injured knee kept Bertelli on the sidelines last year

Bud Bonar Gets Post As Bellaire Coach

BELLAIRE, — (AP) — Reyman (Bud) Bonar, backfield coach at the University of Cincinnati since 1938 except for two years in the Army, returns this fall to Bellaire, his home town, as high school football mentor

In 1935 Bonar, Notre Dame quarterback, kicked the extra point which defeated Army.

Tygers Get Shelby In 'A' Tourney

The Class A sectional high school baseball tournament will be played May 6, 7, 13, and 14 at Blue Goose park, coaches of the six competing teams decided at a meeting last night in the YMCA. Bucyrus, which competed here last year, has decided against a baseball team.

Mansfield Senior high drew Shelby and will play at 2 p. m. Saturday, May 7. Should the Tygers win, an ironic quirk of the draw will pit them against Madison—on Friday the 13th.

Madison and Ashland drew byes in the meet. Galion and Willard won the right to play the tournament opener at 4:30 p. m. May 6. The winner of this game will play Ashland at 2 p. m. May 13 as part of the semi-final double-header with the Madison vs. Mansfield-Shelby winner.

Finals are scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday, May 14. In the event of rain the schedules will be moved up a day with Mondays, May 9 and 16, being utilized.

ADMISSION PRICE

Jimmy Lymper, who will manage the tournament, announced that a 25-cent admission would be charged to help defray expenses.

Winner of the local tournament will meet the lower bracket winner of the Lima sectional in the one-game district May 16 at Findlay. The regional is also set for Findlay, opening May 21.

McGee Plans 'B' League at Possum Run

Plans for the organization of a Class B city golf league were announced last night by Irish McGee, Possum Run club manager.

McGee revealed plans for the circuit at the annual organization banquet of the News-Journal A league held at Blue Goose Tavern.

The A league adopted its new match-medal point system at the banquet and agreed to award a leather golf bag to the player scoring the most number of points during the season.

Concerning the "B" circuit, McGee revealed that sponsors are already available and that a meeting to organize the league will be held as soon as enough golfers are lined up. He asked any interested golfer not competing in the N-J A loop to contact him at the club, either as individuals or by teams.

The league will play once weekly, probably on Friday evenings. Other leagues having already made arrangements at Possum Run are Tappan Stove, on Mondays, Westinghouse, on Wednesdays, Mansfield Tire, on Thursdays, and the A league for Tuesdays.

Madison Baseball Game Rained Out

Old man rain was the winner in yesterday's Madison-Lexington baseball game as he forced a postponement of a Rams game the second time within a week. No date has been set for the game but it probably will not be played until after Easter

Meanwhile, Coach Blaine Dowler has announced that the game at Lucas set for Friday will be played tomorrow. Game time is 3 30 p. m.

Olch Takes Job

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Dan Olch, sports writer formerly with the Ohio State Journal, and the Dayton Journal and Herald, assumed his duties today with the public relations staff of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues (The Minors).

Congress May Be Umpire for OB

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress may take the role of umpire in professional baseball's "reserve clause" controversy.

Without ruling directly on that issue, it may get a chance soon to determine whether baseball and other arganized sports are subject to interstate commerce restrictions and can be sued in federal courts.

The Supreme court held some years ago that baseball is not interstate commerce.

But since then a Federal district court said it could rule on a suit against baseball by Danny Gardella, former New York Giant outfielder, because radio broadcasts and television now carry ball games across state lines.

Gardella is seeking a court order to end his suspension from organized baseball for jumping to the Mexican league in 1946. He also has filed a $300,000 anti-trust suit against baseball.

The Gardella case and other suits now pending in Federal courts would not be affected by any congressional action.

But bills to exempt organized professional sports from anti-trust prosecution were introduced yesterday in the House by Reps. Mills (D-Ark) and Herlong (D-Fla), the latter a former president of the Florida state baseball league.

Chariman Crosser (D-Ohio) disclosed today that some of the big names of the sports world may be called to testify at a House commerce committee hearing tentatively set for April 14.

A list of possible witnesses included the names of baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler, Bill Veeck, head of the Cleveland Indians; Bob Feller and Satchell Paige, Cleveland pitchers; Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees; Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox; Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals; William Harridge and Ford Frick, heads of the two Major baseball leagues, Branch Rickey, Connie Mack and Clark Griffith, owners of Major league teams in Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Washington; Mickey Owen, suspended Brooklyn catcher who jumped to the Mexican league; and Gardella.

Sports writers also are on the list of possible witnesses, as are such football stars as Sammy Baugh, Steve Van Buren, Sid Luckman and Charley Trippi; basketball aces Joe Fulks, Bones McKinney, George Mikan and Bob Feerick and the heads of professional football and basketball leagues.

Tygers to Get Cage Fete

Letter Group Plans Banquet For April 27

Mansfield Senior high school's basketball team which reached the round of eight in the Ohio scholastic tournament this year will be honored with a banquet April 27 at the Richland Recreation center.

Announcement of the banquet was made today by Rich Nagle, president of the Alumni "M" association which will sponsor the big affair. The fete will be the first public event for the former letter winners who organized to "carry out a year-around program of athletic promotion for Mansfield Senior high, junior highs and grade schools."

Members of the Tyger varsity squad and coaches will be guests at the first annual basketball banquet.

The Tygers, coached by Vern Hoffman, won the sectional and district tournament before bowing to Toledo Catholic Central in the regional finals at Toledo, 54 to 53. The Toledo team lost in the state finals to Hamilton. Senior high won 19 and lost eight with only two seniors on the squad.

Nagle announced that Eugene "Peewee" Lantz and Fred Tharp will serve as co-chairmen of the banquet. Members of their committee are Jake Lyons and Dick McMullen. Other committeemen are: Marshall Smith, tickets; Denzel Schaaf, entertainment, and Bob Knofflock and Dick Underwood, school arrangements.

Negotiations for a speaker and program are underway.

Tickets for the banquet will go on sale at $2.50 a person next Monday according to Smith.

1st Christian Annexes Title

First Christian annexed the second half championship of the Junior church basketball league by outlasting St. John's, 37-36, last night in the YMCA gym

Since St. John's was first half champion the two teams will meet again late this week for the season title. St. John's was undefeated the first half and lost only one second half game prior to last night.

Its fourth quarter rally fell short last night although it outscored First Christian 12-6 in the final period. Christian had led 20-13 at the half.

In the preliminary, Grace Gospel defeated First Methodist, 57-44, after trailing 14-12 at the quarter and being tied 20-20 at the half.

Don Handwork Tosses 10 Straight Strikes for 287

Don Handwork set a new season single game record in the Transportation league last night as he was stopped just 13 pins short of a hall-of-fame 300.

Handwork, rolling with Geiger Distributing, tossed 10 straight strikes after sparing in the first frame. His last ball got only seven pins for a 287. With the pressure off, he then slumped to 185 and 165 but still had the highest series of the night, 637.

Adam Karbula of Commercial Motor had a less sensational but more consistent 202-203-197—602. Other scores were well below the 600 mark.

Gene Luedy, of Teamsters had 151-226-197 — 574. Ed Castor, Schmid's Tire, turned in 574; R. Forsythe, Hartman Electric, 554; and J. Speck, Schenk, 540.

★

Nick Komjenovich was tops in the Westinghouse C league with 181-201-174-556. C. Mikesell was second with 192-168-180—540. Others: Don Shipley, 534; R. Nixon, 534; L. Mantel, 531 and Lou Tridico, 521. Nixon had a 211.

★

A good start enabled Leo Yuncker to take individual honors in the Elks circuit at the Colony. Yuncker piled up 235 pins on his first game before fading to 179 and 162 for a 576 total. Ace Dysart came in second with 194-186-182—562.

Others: J. Valentine, 552; Eugene Funston, 548, Bieri, 545; Jim LeMunyon, 541, D. Treisch, 536 and Emmett McIntire, 534. E. Poling had a 213 and J. Zimmerman, 212.

★

Ann Finfgeld was tops in the Westinghouse Girls' league with 122-186-138—446. Grace Chronister came in with 420 while Jean White had 382, Ila Boner, 381 and Kate Nixon, 380.

★

Hadie Young of Ritz Nite club led the Richland C league with a 217 single game and a 551 series. Charles Brauchler of Weaver's Supply had 539, Walter Routson, Colby and Earick posted 538 and Bob Ballengee, Ritz, had 534.

Homer Bottomley, Leedy Electric, rolled 527.

★

B Michalski rolled 163 and 162 to lead the St. Peter's high school league at Colony. His 325 was trailed by Frank Chillemi, 306, Jim Marshall, 303, and Jake Schmidt, 282.

Bob Schiffner, captain of Syracuse university's football team last fall, will lead the baseball nine this spring.

Princeton Grid Coach To Pilot Schoolboy 11

WHEELING, W. Va., —(UP) — Princeton university coach Charles W. Caldwell will coach West Virginia high school all-stars in the seventh Ohio valley all-star game Aug. 19.

A previous announcement already had named coach Stu Holcomb of Purdue university to coach Ohio schoolboy stars in the clash.

Stronger Cleveland Team Lacks Support

By LEO H. PETERSEN, UP Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(UP)—For a team which refused to stand pat and made a number of strengthening deals, there is a surprising lack of support for the world champion Cleveland Indians to repeat their American league pennant triumph.

In most baseball quarters, the Boston Red Sox appear to be favored over Lou Boudreau's crew. That is done mostly on the reasoning that the Red Sox can't get off to as bad a start this year as they did last. It does not take into account the fact that the Red Sox are going to the post with few changes, while the Indians have added first string depth.

But it matters little to Boudreau, the brilliant shortstop, where the experts pick his club to finish. He is satisfied that he has the team to beat. The facts tend to support him.

During the off season the Indians added Pitchers Early Wynn and Frank Papish, Catcher Mike Tresh and First Baseman Mickey Vernon. To do that they had to give up Ed Robinson, who played first for them last year; Ed Klieman, one of their leading relief pitchers, and reserve Catcher Joe Tipton. On paper at least, they got a lot more than they parted with.

To go with them, Boudreau has back the mainstays of last year's club. True that a number of them, like Boudreau himself, Pitchers Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden, Joe Gordon, Ken Keltner and Dale Mitchell had outstanding seasons, but there is nothing to indicate that they can't do as well again.

Also, Larry Doby, who came along fast in 1948, figures to become one of the greatest outfielders in the game.

NOT ANY WORRY

Add them all together and you have the reasons why Boudreau and his boss, Bill Veeck, aren't worried about those glowing Red Sox reports.

Except for the right field post, the club is all set.

It will be Vernon, Gordon, Boudreau and Keltner in the infield; Mitchell in left, Doby in center and either Al Clark or Bob Kennedy in right with Hank Edwards also in the picture if he recovers from his injuries. Thurman Tucker, a fine fielder, will be around for emergency duty, too.

Jim Hegan, who did the bulk of the work last year, and Tresh will share the catching.

Pitching figures to be the biggest Indian asset with Bearden, Lemon, Wynn, Papish, Steve Gromek and last, but not least, the great Bob Feller, forming the starting staff. Behind them are Sad Sam Zoldak, the old Negro-Satchel Paige, and Don Black with rookie Ed Garcia, a 19-game winner with Oklahoma City last year, also showing a lot of promise.

If there is any weakness on that staff it is the lack of an acknowledged relief ace, but as Veeck remarked:

"How often do you have to worry about relief with that kind of a starting line?"

If they do slip, Veeck and Boudreau figure that Zoldak, Paige, Black, and perhaps Garcia will do all right.

It does shape up as the best pitching staff in the league and certainly there is nothing wrong with that infield and catching. The outfield may be a bit weak defensively, particularly when it comes to throwing, but that is the only shortcoming apparent now, and it is a minor one that is far overshadowed by above normal strength in all the other departments.

Buck 'Whale' Winds Up Career

By Central Press.

COLUMBUS, O.—"The Whale" will be coming out of the water soon and Coach Mike Peppe of the Ohio State university swimming team probably will do some blubbering over the best hunk of blubber he's ever had on his tank team.

"The Whale" is what Bill Smith's teammates affectionately call him. Bill is a rather blubbery 215 pounds and he looks something less than the world's greatest swimmer, which he is.

Smith, who is 23 and from Hawaii, will call it intercollegiate quits this spring as he wraps up his career as a Buck natator.

But as he walks the graduation gangplank he can look back on an athletic record which now contains 23 national titles, eight world records, two American marks, and an Olympic victory in the 400-meter free style event.

He plans to return to his native land and apply his physical education degree to a coaching career.

BIG BILL'S appearance is deceptive. His muscles are flat, and he looks loose-jointed, soft and plump rather than lean and hard. His ability in water stems from tremendous power coupled with a flawlessly-coordinated stroke.

Smith's biggest thrill came in that Olympic championship race, in which he upset France's Alex Jany and Jimmy McLane, the former Akron, O., schoolboy wonder.

Ohio State's Coach Peppe, who was Olympic diving mentor, called the 400 "the greatest race I've ever seen."

According to the script, Bill's swimming career was finished last year. Critics decided he was "washed-up" when he finished a poor third in the Western Conference 1,500-meter finals and failed to win his pet race, the 220-yard freestyle.

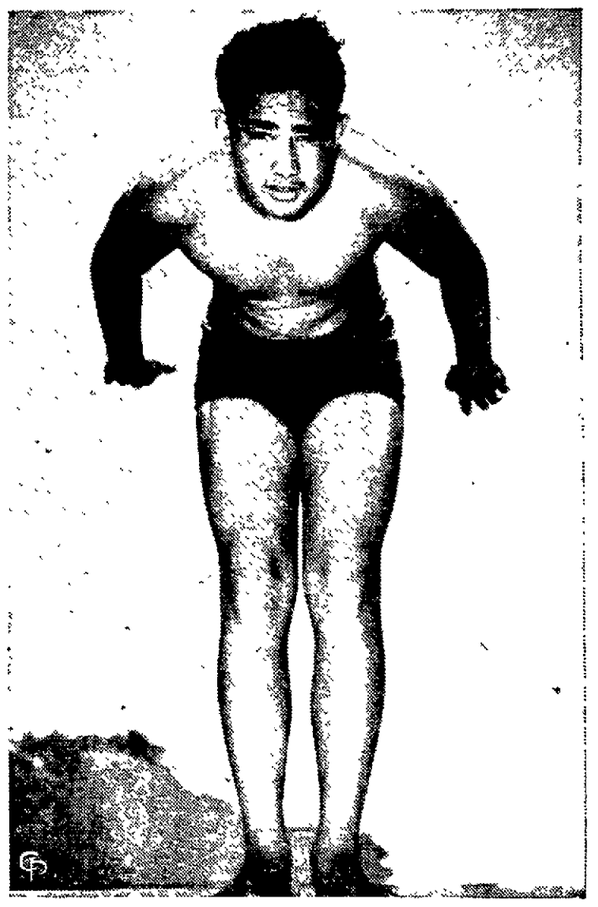
What most of the fans and sportswriters overlooked was the fact that Bill was competing despite a severe sinusitus condition.

A couple of weeks later, Smith made a smashing comeback by winning both the 220 and 440-yard events in the National AAU meet. He repeated the double triumph at the National Collegiates, and just to silence his critics forever, came through with a classic Olympic performance.

Incidentally, in addition to winning the 400-meters, he anchored Uncle Sam's winning 800-meter relay team.

VINDICATING himself was no new experience to Bill. He set phenomenal times as a schoolboy sensation in Hawaii. He won the first state-wide tests in the 1941 National AAU championships at St. Louis. But skeptics were quick to point out that his times didn't compare with those he had made in his native environs.

Then Smith went to Ohio State. As a 17-year-old freshman in 1942, he blazed to four world and two American records in the AAU outdoor meet at New London, Conn.



Bill Smith . . . "The Whale" winds up career.

His record - shattering performances included the 220 and 880-yard events and the 400 and 800 meters. It was the greatest individual swimming performance ever seen anywhere!

After that, Bill went into the Navy and his record-smashing continued while he served at Great Lakes.

Coming back to Ohio State, Smith helped spark the Buckeyes to their "grand slam of splash" of national swimming championships in 1947. In 1948, he was captain of another great Buck team.

Someone may match Bill's uncanny all-around ability in the water someday. But it will take extraordinary determination and skill. Michigan's fine swimming coach, Matt Mann, summed it up when he said:

"Some guys can swim the greatest race of his life, but 'Smitty' will always do just a little better."

Coach Suggests More Athletics

GALION — Suggestions for the expansion of Galion's sports program were made by high school basketball coach Richard M. Backensto in an address at a Lions club meeting last night in the Imhoff restaurant.

Backensto advocated the formation of a church basketball league for younger boys and a longer summer program. He suggested an outdoor basketball court and a longer run of the park program and tennis court play in the summer.

Annual Masters Opens Tomorrow

AUGUSTA, GA. — (AP) — The best of the soggy ground golfers will have their day in the first round of the masters tomorrow at the drenched Augusta national course.

Week-end rains held off Monday but came back strong yesterday, leaving the national just short of a puddling mess. Only excellent drainage keeps low spots on the long 6,900 yard links from going under water.

Of the 97 golfers invited to play in this exclusive tournament, 54 have checked in.

Galion Fighter Out of Tourney

Bill "Red" Mathias, Galion heavyweight, was eliminated from the National AAU boxing tournament in Boston last night when outpointed by James Tientindo of Greenville, S. C.

Mathias, who has fought several times in Friendly House shows, advanced to the second round of the tourney before bowing out. He won the Ohio championship two weeks ago in Springfield.

Galion Shooters Win Rifle Match

Galion won a tri-county league rifle match last night on the Ashland range by piling up a 1424 score. Ashland had 1413 and Gasco 1399.

A SPLENDID BUSINESS BUILDING AND A WONDERFUL MODERN BUNGALOW

A truly remarkable property in a very good location on main highway close to Mansfield. Approximately 3½ acres of land with almost 800 feet of highway frontage. Masonry constructed business building (new) having 2,600 square feet of concrete floor space; fluorescent lighting; drinking water and lavatory, oil forced air heating; enormous amount of window space; set well back from the road with all kinds of parking space. And one of the most charming bungalows you'll ever see—just check this description word for word when you see this extraordinary one-floor interior; it's new also, and has a very attractive 2-car attached garage. A deluxe living room of satin finished knotty pine walls; huge open fireplace surrounded with a modernistic arrangement of built-in bookshelves, and huge thermopane picture window—the very latest fashion in a streamlined kitchen with cleverly arranged dinette space, breakfast bar, beautiful combination of paint and paper trim, and oodles of polished cabinet space—2 lovely bedrooms, light and modern, highly polished hardwood oak floors—handsome modern bathroom with modernistic colorful tub, water closet and lavatory fixtures; inlaid linoleum, and shower in tub—small modern laundry space, and utility room, oil furnace forced air heat. Every inch of this home is ultra modern and every inch of the walls and floors are fully insulated. The owner requests that this property be shown by appointment only, and no location given over phone. It can be shown at your convenience. "Exclusive listing." $25,000. Salesman, Mr. France, 7335-4.

HOW ABOUT A LOAN?

Maybe a private cash loan is just the thing for you. It's far better than worry and sacrifice. O. K., let's take $275 for example. Think what you can do with it right now. Plenty of things! You can get it quickly, and we mean today, on just your own signature and security. But how can you repay? Easy enough! Only $17 a month takes care of it, everything included. That's our new 21 month plan. Just give us a call or stop in our nearest office. There's a friendly welcome awaiting you and a helping hand with plenty of cash for any of your needs.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Who says

THERE'S NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN?

We don't—because we've just installed a new John Bean VISUALINER in our Steering Service Department. It's the first machine we ever saw that can make driving safer by harnessing beams of light. Checks the wheel alignment on an automobile quick-as-a-flash and even projects a picture on a screen so that you can SEE FOR YOURSELF if your car needs attention.

But you don't have to take our word for it. Drive in and let the VISUALINER show you why your car is steering hard. After all, SEEING IS BELIEVING and you can see for yourself whether your automobile is right for safe, economical, high-speed driving.

Military Asks For Further Spy Curbs

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The military yesterday asked Congress for tighter espionage legislation as a weapon against a "new and strange" threat to American liberties.

Maj. Gen. Stafford Leroy Irwin, director of army intelligence, testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee in behalf of all three armed services. He indicated he had subversives in mind as the "new and strange" threat.

He urged approval of a revised version of the administration's counter-espionage bill. Early approval of the measure has been forecast.

"There is now existing within our country a threat to our form of government and to the liberties guaranteed to all of us in our Constitution," Irwin said.

"The magnitude and strength of this threat is something new and strange to America. It is a threat which is most difficult to counteract."

Irwin said the military establishment is supporting the bill because "gaps in our present laws permit people, both citizens and aliens, opportunities to acquire information about our national security and to use that information to the disadvantage and danger of the United States without fear of prosecution in our courts."

Irwin said the proposed measure would "substantially correct" deficiencies in existing laws without invading privileges and immunities of citizens.

Three Times and Out

HOBART, Okla. — (UP) — Mrs. Nettus Sloan has been granted her third divorce within two years from the same man, J. W. Sloan. Mrs. Sloan divorced Edward J. Hayes before she married Sloan. She tried three times to reconcile her marriage with the second husband, but this time she says the divorce is going to stick.

Makes New Iron Alloy

MOUNT VERNON — (INS) — The Cooper-Bessemer corporation in Mount Vernon yesterday announced production plans making use of a new, low-cost iron alloy which may replace steel in many fields.

Chief Metallurgist T. E. Eagan stated that magnesium-treated iron with qualities formerly obtainable only in steel, "promises to upset long-established manufacturing practices in some of the country's major industries."

Eagen termed the new development the "hottest news in metallurgical circles today" and claimed that it will open up broad fields new to "gray iron" foundries.

The alloy is a high strength "ductile iron" of "superior castibility" with three to four times the endurance of ordinary gray iron.

Cooper-Bessemer is studying plans to use "ductile iron" in the production of diesel engine parts, compressor heads capable of withstanding high working pressures and railroad car wheels.

In addition the company believes it will be able to relieve critical shortages in steel pipe by producing an iron pipe suitable for use by the oil industry.

Cooper-Bessemer acquired a license to produce the alloy from the International Nickel company, which developed "ductile iron" during 10 years of research.

Mindszenty Case Probe Protested

BUDAPEST —(INS)— Hungary formally protested to the United Nations yesterday against the consideration by the general assembly of the trial, conviction and imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Hungarian protest was contained in a note from Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk to Herbert V. Evatt, Australian president of the assembly. Bolivia, Cuba and other Latin American nations; reportedly acting with U. S. encouragement, placed the Mindszenty case on the agenda of the assembly session which opened today at Flushing Meadows, N. Y.

Sued Over Salt 'Sub'

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Three law suits blaming a table salt substitute for injuries totaling $165,000 were filed in common pleas court Monday.

"Westal," the substitute salt prescribed by physicians here in the treatment of high blood pressure, kidney and heart ailment patients was ordered removed from sale Fev. 18 by the food and drug administration in Washington. A warning against its use also was issued.

Petitions filed by two Cleveland widows and another woman from Euclid named the drug firm of McKesson-Robbins, Inc., defendant.

Mrs. Frances I. Ledencan, 42, suing for $75,000, asserted her health has been affected and impaired and her life shortened by use of the drug.

The widows, Mrs. Kati Tait and Mrs. Nan Nunn, sued for $50,000 and $40,000 respectively. Mrs. Tait said in her petition she has been confined to her bed and wholly disabled after using the drug for a six-month period.

Mrs. Nunn claimed injuries similar to those claimed by Mrs. Tait.

Last Friday, William G. Schlopen of suburban Lakewood, filed suit for $150,000 against the McKesson firm, claiming his vision was impaired and his health undermined by the drug.

Ohio Inventor No Dreamer, Lives on Royalties at 50

CINCINNATI — (AP) — If you think all inventors are dreamers, you would be wrong in the case of Robert D. Henderson of Cincinnati.

Henderson at 50 is living comfortably with his wife on royalties while sending a son, Richard, 17, to Princeton, and a daughter Joan, 19, to Barnard.

During World War II he invented a "hypodermic puncturing prong" which, he said, wrecked 10 German bombers at one time.

The prong, hollow like a hypodermic needle to permit immediate release of the air in a tire, was affixed to a weighted halfspere. Dropped on an enemy airstrip by American bombers, these new type tacks landed upright. Enemy planes landing and taking off hit them and wrecked.

Henderson took no money for that invention.

He also spent two years designing jigs and fixtures for the manufacture of airplane camera mounts at the Huber Engineering company here.

Henderson, by a decision of the Ohio Supreme Court, recently won patent rights to a tire changer. The appliance, he said, makes tire changes practically automatic.

His first invention—13 years ago—was a hitch for light trailers. It permits turning a trailer-towing car around as though it was unencumbered, according to Henderson. It soon will be in commercial production, the inventor said.

He is working on several other inventions now.

Telephone Hearing Set For April 21

Jury to Determine Value of Land

A hearing to set the price the city of Mansfield must pay the Mansfield Telephone company for a 60-foot right-of-way to extend East Fifth street, has been scheduled for April 21 in common pleas court.

The case will be heard by a jury, which will determine the price of the land. The city wants the land to extend East Fifth street from Snyder street to the Ashland road.

The 650-foot-long tract is part of the property of the telephone company. City officials said the land is needed to extend East Fifth street to put a one-way street program into effect and to relieve traffic congestion in the industrial area.

In declining to sell, telephone company officials said the property was purchased for use as a pole yard and that loss of frontage on Ashland road would make the rest of the land useless for their purpose.

Concert Set For May 13

The Johnny Appleseed orchestra and band concert will be held Friday, May 13, it was announced by Miss Jean Worley, school orchestra and band director, last night. Theme of the concert will be "Ship Ahoy!"

The announcement was made during the business meeting of the Johnny Appleseed Orchestra and Band Parents' club held at the school last night. The meeting followed a covered-dish dinner attended by 61.

Vernon Ford, program chairman, introduced Ruth Plaut who played two piano solos, "Prelude," by Louise Wright, and "Valse Chromatique," by Benjamin Godard.

The ninth grade dramatics class, directed by Miss Worley, presented a play, "Wilbur Faces Life," written by Donald Payton.

The cast included Jack Allen, Lois Cramer, Shirley Tucker, Serles Mitchel, Pat Doner, Mildred Kirkpatrick, and Norma Falls.

The next meeting will be a business meeting June 7.

Some years ago the United States experimented with tea growing in South Carolina and Texas but later abandoned it

Southeast Section Cyclists To Register Saturday

Bike riders who have their vehicles registered with the city need not have them re-registered this year, Identification Officer Paul Martin said in announcing Saturday's lineup.

Saturday bike riders living south of Park avenue east and east of South Main street, will report to the police garage on Walnut street and have their bikes registered.

In the event of rain, the registration will be postponed to the next Saturday, Martin said.

Seventy-one bikes were registered at the first session last Saturday, but a number of bikes were brought to the garage that were already registered.

If a bike is registered, and the yellow tag is on the vehicle, that owner is not required to re-register it unless it was purchased from another owner.

In that event the new owner must have it registered under his name. Also if the yellow tag is missing from a bike, it will have to be re-registered.

Co-Ops Hold Annual Ball

Leslie K. Wagner was installed as the new president of the Mansfield Co - Operative club last night at the club's ninth annual inaugural ball.

Nearly 100 Co - Operators, guests, and their wives danced into the wee hours of the morning to the music of Nels Blocker and his orchestra.

John J. Kindel, first president of the club and a past governor of this Co-Operative club district, was master of ceremonies for the evening's dinner.

James D. Herrman, Dayton Co - Operator, kept the group laughing with a talk on "Is It Just Veneer?"

Confesses Burglary

A 16-year-old Mansfield boy, who escaped from the Columbus School for Feeble-minded last October, confessed to police last night burglary of the Empire Service Station, 811 Bowman street, on Jan. 20.

The youth, who will be returned to the Columbus institution today by juvenile court officials, was apprehended by police yesterday at his home for being in possession of a stolen bicycle

The service station burglary of between $40 and $75 in pin ball machine money and merchandise occurred the night of January 20. Police found the cash register in the station smeared with broken eggs and oil cans scattered about the ransacked room.

SMOKE, NO FIRE

Firemen from No. 2 station answered a call to the home of Rufus Dawson, 76 Grandview avenue, at 11:30 a. m. today. According to firemen, Mrs. Dawson was burning rubbish in the furnace and became alarmed at the smoke. There was no fire or damage reported.

Air Guard Faces First Inspection

Annual Check-up To Require 4 Days

The 164th Fighter Squadron of the Air National Guard, located at Mansfield's municipal airport, will have its first annual federal inspection tomorrow through Sunday, Capt. Albert B. Line, operations officer of the squadron, announced today.

Capt. William O. Ash, commanding officer of the fighter group, now has complement of 350 men and officers in training.

The inspection will be conducted by eight men and officers from the Ninth U. S. Air Force Headquarters at Langley Field, Va.

Activated on June 20, 1948, the squadron has had less than a year to equip itself and train its men for the all-important annual inspection by an inspecting party from a regular U. S. Air Force GHQ

Beginning tomorrow, equipment and training facilities will be inspected with that phase of the inspection ending Saturday.

Sunday, all the Guardsmen will assemble for the personnel inspection by the Langley field group.

March Fire Losses Show Decline

Mansfield's fire loss during March was estimated at $1,990 today by Chief L. J. Steele in the monthly report of his department.

Total valuation of property involved in the 48 alarms was listed at $17,000. Firemen answered one false alarm.

Trucks traveled 153 miles during the month and made 13 runs outside the city limits. Firemen laid 6,750 feet of hose.

Passes School Bus, Fined $10

Donald LeFever, 20, of South Main street, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of passing a school bus discharging passengers when he appeared in municipal court today and was fined $10 and costs.

He was arrested by state highway patrolmen yesterday on U. S Route 42.

Two Charged After Mishaps

Two Mansfielders were cited to appear in traffic court this afternoon on charges growing out of separate accidents in the city last night.

Cited were Herbert G. Fraley, 30, of Mansfield, R. D. 1, charged with failure to yield the right-of-way, and Robert E. McDaniel, 26, of 221 Miller street, arrested for illegal backing of a motor car.

Police said Fraley made a left turn from High street to Springmill street, colliding with a car driven by Herman G. Berry, 18, of 78 Plainview avenue. The mishap occurred at 7:25 p. m.

McDaniel was citied for traffic violation after he backed from the Greyhound bus depot on North Diamond street into a car driven by Richard H. Loos, 565 East Townview circle, police said. Officers said the accident occurred at 8:15 p. m. No injuries were incurred in either accident.

Military Asks For Further Spy Curbs

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The military yesterday asked Congress for tighter espionage legislation as a weapon against a "new and strange" threat to American liberties.

Maj. Gen. Stafford Leroy Irwin, director of army intelligence, testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee in behalf of all three armed services. He indicated he had subversives in mind as the "new and strange" threat.

He urged approval of a revised version of the administration's counter-espionage bill. Early approval of the measure has been forecast.

"There is now existing within our country a threat to our form of government and to the liberties guaranteed to all of us in our Constitution," Irwin said.

"The magnitude and strength of this threat is something new and strange to America. It is a threat which is most difficult to counteract."

Irwin said the military establishment is supporting the bill because "gaps in our present laws permit people, both citizens and aliens, opportunities to acquire information about our national security and to use that information to the disadvantage and danger of the United States without fear of prosecution in our courts."

Irwin said the proposed measure would "substantially correct" deficiencies in existing laws without invading privileges and immunities of citizens.

Three Times and Out

HOBART, Okla. — (UP) — Mrs. Nettus Sloan has been granted her third divorce within two years from the same man, J. W. Slogan. Mrs. Sloan divorced Edward J. Hayes before she married Sloan. She tried three times to reconcile her marriage with the second husband, but this time she says the divorce is going to stick.

Makes New Iron Alloy

MOUNT VERNON — (INS) — The Cooper-Bessemer corporation in Mount Vernon yesterday announced production plans making use of a new, low-cost iron alloy which may replace steel in many fields.

Chief Metallurgist T. E. Eagan stated that magnesium-treated iron with qualities formerly obtainable only in steel, "promises to upset long-established manufacturing practices in some of the country's major industries."

Eagen termed the new development the "hottest news in metallurgical circles today" and claimed that it will open up broad fields new to "gray iron" foundries.

The alloy is a high strength "ductile iron" of "superior castibility" with three to four times the endurance of ordinary gray iron.

Cooper-Bessemer is studying plans to use "ductile iron" in the production of diesel engine parts, compressor heads capable of withstanding high working pressures and railroad car wheels.

In addition the company believes it will be able to relieve critical shortages in steel pipe by producing an iron pipe suitable for use by the oil industry.

Cooper-Bessemer acquired a license to produce the alloy from the International Nickel company, which developed "ductile iron" during 10 years of research.

Mindszenty Case Probe Protested

BUDAPEST —(INS)— Hungary formally protested to the United Nations yesterday against the consideration by the general assembly of the trial, conviction and imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Hungarian protest was contained in a note from Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk to Herbert V. Evatt, Australian president of the assembly. Bolivia, Cuba and other Latin American nations, reportedly acting with U. S. encouragement, placed the Mindszenty case on the agenda of the assembly session which opened today at Flushing Meadows, N. Y.

Sued Over Salt 'Sub'

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Three law suits blaming a table salt substitute for injuries totaling $165,000 were filed in common pleas court Monday.

"Westal," the substitute salt prescribed by physicians here in the treatment of high blood pressure, kidney and heart ailment patients was ordered removed from sale Fev. 18 by the food and drug administration in Washington. A warning against its use also was issued.

Petitions filed by two Cleveland widows and another woman from Euclid named the drug firm of McKesson-Robbins, Inc., defendant.

Mrs. Frances I. Ledencan, 42, suing for $75,000, asserted her health has been affected and impaired and her life shortened by use of the drug.

The widows, Mrs. Kati Tait and Mrs. Nan Nunn, sued for $50,000 and $40,000 respectively. Mrs. Tait said in her petition she has been confined to her bed and wholly disabled after using the drug for a six-month period.

Mrs. Nunn claimed injuries similar to those claimed by Mrs. Tait.

Last Friday, William G. Schlopen of suburban Lakewood, filed suit for $150,000 against the McKesson firm, claiming his vision was impaired and his health undermined by the drug.

Ohio Inventor No Dreamer, Lives on Royalties at 50

CINCINNATI — (AP) — If you think all inventors are dreamers, you would be wrong in the case of Robert D. Henderson of Cincinnati.

Henderson at 50 is living comfortably with his wife on royalties while sending a son, Richard, 17, to Princeton, and a daughter Joan, 19, to Barnard.

During World War II he invented a "hypodermic puncturing prong" which, he said, wrecked 10 German bombers at one time.

The prong, hollow like a hypodermic needle to permit immediate release of the air in a tire, was affixed to a weighted halfspere. Dropped on an enemy airstrip by American bombers, these new type tacks landed upright. Enemy planes landing and taking off hit them and wrecked.

Henderson took no money for that invention.

He also spent two years designing jigs and fixtures for the manufacture of airplane camera mounts at the Huber Engineering company here.

Henderson, by a decision of the Ohio Supreme Court, recently won patent rights to a tire changer. The appliance, he said, makes tire changes practically automatic.

His first invention—13 years ago—was a hitch for light trailers. It permits turning a trailer-towing car around as though it was unencumbered, according to Henderson. It soon will be in commercial production, the inventor said.

He is working on several other inventions now.

Telephone Hearing Set For April 21

Jury to Determine Value of Land

A hearing to set the price the city of Mansfield must pay the Mansfield Telephone company for a 60-foot right-of-way to extend East Fifth street, has been scheduled for April 21 in common pleas court.

The case will be heard by a jury, which will determine the price of the land. The city wants the land to extend East Fifth street from Snyder street to the Ashland road.

The 650-foot-long tract is part of the property of the telephone company. City officials said the land is needed to extend East Fifth street to put a one-way street program into effect and to relieve traffic congestion in the industrial area.

In declining to sell, telephone company officials said the property was purchased for use as a pole yard and that loss of frontage on Ashland road would make the rest of the land useless for their purpose.

Concert Set For May 13

The Johnny Appleseed orchestra and band concert will be held Friday, May 13, it was announced by Miss Jean Worley, school orchestra and band director, last night Theme of the concert will be "Ship Ahoy!"

The announcement was made during the business meeting of the Johnny Appleseed Orchestra and Band Parents' club held at the school last night. The meeting followed a covered-dish dinner attended by 61.

Vernon Ford, program chairman, introduced Ruth Plaut who played two piano solos, "Prelude," by Louise Wright, and "Valse Chromatique," by Benjamin Godard

The ninth grade dramatics class directed by Miss Worley, presented a play, "Wilbur Faces Life," written by Donald Payton.

The cast included Jack Allen, Lois Cramer, Shirley Tucker, Serles Mitchel, Pat Doner, Mildred Kirkpatrick, and Norma Falls.

The next meeting will be a business meeting June 7.

Some years ago the United States experimented with tea growing in South Carolina and Texas but later abandoned it.

Southeast Section Cyclists To Register Saturday

Bike riders who have their vehicles registered with the city need not have them re-registered this year, Identification Officer Paul Martin said in announcing Saturday's lineup.

Saturday bike riders living south of Park avenue east and east of South Main street, will report to the police garage on Walnut street and have their bikes registered.

In the event of rain, the registration will be postponed to the next Saturday, Martin said.

Seventy-one bikes were registered at the first session last Saturday, but a number of bikes were brought to the garage that were already registered.

If a bike is registered, and the yellow tag is on the vehicle, that owner is not required to re-register it unless it was purchased from another owner.

In that event the new owner must have it registered under his name. Also if the yellow tag is missing from a bike, it will have to be re-registered.

Co-Ops Hold Annual Ball

Leslie K. Wagner was installed as the new president of the Mansfield Co - Operative club last night at the club's ninth annual inaugural ball.

Nearly 100 Co - Operators, guests, and their wives danced into the wee hours of the morning to the music of Nels Blocker and his orchestra.

John J. Kindel, first president of the club and a past governor of this Co-Operative club district, was master of ceremonies for the evening's dinner.

James D. Herrman, Dayton Co - Operator, kept the group laughing with a talk on "Is It Just Veneer?"

Confesses Burglary

A 16-year-old Mansfield boy, who escaped from the Columbus School for Feeble-minded last October, confessed to police last night burglary of the Empire Service Station, 811 Bowman street, on Jan. 20.

The youth, who will be returned to the Columbus institution today by juvenile court officials was apprehended by police yesterday at his home for being in possession of a stolen bicycle.

The service station burglary of between $40 and $75 in pin ball machine money and merchandise occurred the night of January 20. Police found the cash register in the station smeared with broken eggs and oil cans scattered about the ransacked room.

SMOKE, NO FIRE

Firemen from No. 2 station answered a call to the home of Rufus Dawson, 76 Grandview avenue, at 11 30 a. m. today. According to firemen, Mrs. Dawson was burning rubbish in the furnace and became alarmed at the smoke. There was no fire or damage reported.

Air Guard Faces First Inspection

Annual Check-up To Require 4 Days

The 164th Fighter Squadron of the Air National Guard, located at Mansfield's municipal airport, will have its first annual federal inspection tomorrow through Sunday, Capt. Albert B. Line, operations officer of the squadron, announced today.

Capt. William O. Ash, commanding officer of the fighter group, now has complement of 350 men and officers in training.

The inspection will be conducted by eight men and officers from the Ninth U. S. Air Force Headquarters at Langley Field, Va.

Activated on June 20, 1948, the squadron has had less than a year to equip itself and train its men for the all-important annual inspection by an inspecting party from a regular U. S. Air Force GHQ

Beginning tomorrow, equipment and training facilities will be inspected with that phase of the inspection ending Saturday.

Sunday, all the Guardsmen will assemble for the personnel inspection by the Langley field group.

March Fire Losses Show Decline

Mansfield's fire loss during March was estimated at $1,990 today by Chief L. J. Steele in the monthly report of his department.

Total valuation of property involved in the 48 alarms was listed at $17,000 Firemen answered one false alarm.

Trucks traveled 153 miles during the month and made 13 runs outside the city limits. Firemen laid 6,750 feet of hose.

Passes School Bus, Fined $10

Donald LeFever, 20, of South Main street, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of passing a school bus discharging passengers when he appeared in municipal court today and was fined $10 and costs.

He was arrested by state highway patrolmen yesterday on U. S. Route 42.

Two Charged After Mishaps

Two Mansfielders were cited to appear in traffic court this afternoon on charges growing out of separate accidents in the city last night.

Cited were Herbert G. Fraley, 30, of Mansfield, R. D. 1, charged with failure to yield the right-of-way, and Robert E. McDaniel, 26, of 221 Miller street, arrested for illegal backing of a motor car.

Police said Fraley made a left turn from High street to Springmill street, colliding with a car driven by Herman G. Berry, 18, of 78 Plainview avenue. The mishap occurred at 7:25 p. m.

Mansfield's Share In Army Day

MANSFIELD today joins the rest of the nation in observance of Army day with more than usual interest because of the large number of local men who are active in the various organized army ground force and air reserve units and in the National Guard.

Defense of the nation has actually become a big business in the city, with a large monthly payroll, but Mansfielders look with pride upon the local defense units for far other reasons. It is keenly realized that in the event this nation must protect itself from an aggressor, the men of this area will be ready to an unusually high degree.

The artillery display at Central park today and the open house being observed by various military units and veterans groups are but an outward symbol of the year-around task to which many citizens have devoted themselves.

The day affords an opportunity for the rest of the community to pay tribute to the local groups and to the mighty national Army as well.

Helpless Victims of Hospital Fire

ASSOCIATED with the feeling of horror occasioned by that frightful hospital fire in the small city of Effingham, Ill., there is the haunting thought that conditions which made possible the start and rapid spread of such a conflagration are permitted to exist in other public and privately operated institutions without attracting notice until catastrophe strikes.

Fair assumption, among those who require hospital care, is that the element of safety is reasonably assured, and this requires that construction of buildings used for hospital purposes be such as to provide the best of safeguards against fire—which obviously were absent in the Effingham institution, a part of which was 80 years old.

While any fire that involves loss of lives is a dreadful occurrence, this hospital holocaust was made particularly frightful by its toll of helpless new-born babies, and by the fate of mothers awaiting the birth of a child.

There is need in many sections of the country for more hospitals, but this need should not be permitted to excuse continuance in use of potential fire traps nor to justify construction of buildings for hospital purposes that have less than maximum safeguards against the start and spread of fire.

Trucks That Carry Loads of Steel

SOME ATTENTION is finally being given to the danger involved in the use of highways by trucks heavily loaded with steel sheets, rods or girders, which, more and more frequently, have jack-knifed, run into ditches, or had a shift of cargo which flung loose their steel loads on curves.

Commenting editorially on this danger, after citing several specific instances of accidents associated with the trucking of steel on highways, the Cleveland Press says: "Laws limiting truck loads must be enforced vigorously. Truck operators will have to learn that they can't get away with this day-in and day-out violation, pounding our roads to pieces and risking the lives of everyone on the road. . . . Then the legislature should look at the laws and tighten the loopholes. . . . How many more will have to be killed? How long will Ohio motorists put up with this?"

Extent to which trucks of freight car proportions have usurped highways not designed to supplant railroad tracks as a means of mass transportation has become a serious problem in Ohio and other states, and a tightening of restrictions seems a necessary part of greatly needed improvement of highway safety.

'Deficiency Financing' Subterfuge

CONGRESS has begun the business of cutting down the President's budget, but any observer can be forgiven if he suspects that it is all for the sake of appearances. After trimming down funds recommended for the department of the interior and for the Army engineers for rivers and harbors improvement, the House appropriations committee invited both of these agencies to request deficiency appropriations at the end of the year if the indicated savings could not be accomplished.

The use of deficiency financing in the federal government has become so commonplace that budgets almost cease to have meaning. A department or agency which expends all of its appropriated money before the end of the budget period simply runs without funds until a deficiency appropriation is made by Congress. The practice is tolerated by Congress, perhaps because it permits a public splash of budget cutting without actually endangering favorite government activities.

The constantly growing cost of government is a cause of grave concern, as we cannot go on forever spending a larger and larger portion of the national income for government. If the trend is ever to be checked, one of the things that will have to be done is to bring deficiency financing under strict control, so that budgets will have reality.

The Polish parliament in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries had a rule permitting a single member to veto any pending bill. This is an indication that the Senate filibuster was not a new idea.

House Members Jittery

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — President Truman's publicly dramatized troubles with Congress thus far have been largely in the Senate.

There was, first, the setback in the anti-filibuster fight which was followed, in turn, by the campaign to reduce European Recovery Program funds, both promoted by Democrat-Republican coalitions. In perspective, these skirmishes perhaps will be found to have been exaggerated.

But the President's long-range difficulty is likely to be at the other side of the Capitol — in the House — as has been the case now for some years.

President Truman has been frustrated in the House on his social and economic welfare program as was Franklin D. Roosevelt before him.

There is a simple rule of thumb for this. For one thing, the winds of national issues that blow in national elections frequently do not penetrate into the cranny which is a congressional district.

Personalities and local issues often are predominant. Sometimes, too, if there is general dissatisfaction with the way things are going, voters are apt to devote more attention to getting a change.

For another thing, a House member usually is more susceptible to pressure groups than is a senator. Such groups can concentrate more easily in a congressional district. In the area of a whole state, which is a senator's constituency, their influence is likely to be diffused.

The shorter tenure of House members also is a factor. The average House member begins to run for re-election two years away as soon as he takes his seat and is constantly conscious that one or another pressure group may provide the block of votes that may defeat him. He is most sensitive.

* * *

Orgy of Letter-Writing.

A SURVEY of the temper of the House just now yields some very interesting symptons bearing on all of this.

Its temper is jittery. This is due, in part, to one of the most active campaigns in history by pressure groups of all sorts, both for the President's program and against it, which reveals itself physically in the greatest barrage of mail in a long time, much of it, of course, organized and inspired, but all of it ostensibly representing blocks of voters back home.

This prolific "write-your-congressman" campaign undoubtedly owes something to the spotlight President Truman played upon Congress in the last campaign and the pen-to-paper energy he released.

Another cause of the jitters is the general business situation. Members are plainly worried about that. There's no easier and simpler issue against anybody in office than bad times. But what to do is perplexing.

Another disturbing influence is the disillusionment among some of the new members—and there are many freshmen in this House. They came here fresh and eager to get lots of things done—tomorrow morning preferably—as new members have since our government was founded, and have run up against the delays and parliamentary maneuvers and over-all confusion. This is only normal, but it adds to the jitters in the House.

Significant of all this is the fact that the pressure to shorten the legislative program for this first session comes largely from the House leadership.

The plan, as previously revealed here, is to confine the social and economic welfare program to a labor bill, wage-and hour act extension, and housing.

Social security expansion and federal aid to education would be left to the next session probably. Health insurance would be abandoned for this session, and the health program limited to hospital construction and medical education.

An analysis of the Democratic party in the House shows it is really divided into three groups—the right in the southern conservatives; the left in big-city representatives elected with labor support, and a middle group which is most numerous. All of this magnifies the problem of leaders.

Frankly Speaking

Congress Must Decide

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The diplomats' striped pants are back in their traveling bags, their speeches are finished, their signatures are on the Atlantic Pact, and now we get down to cases.

All the ceremony about signing the Pact won't mean any more than an exercise in penmanship unless Congress breathes the breath of life into it. It's all in the hands of Congress now.

The foreign ministers of 12 nations—including our own Secretary of State Acheson—signed the agreement under flood lights in a jam-packed auditorium where senators and representatives had to squeeze in.

The Pact is a solemn declaration, binding all 12, that they'd stand solidly in a military alliance, a wall of steel, to stop any push by Russia or communism. And the agreement is to last for 20 years.

All this sounds good, and it's all done on a very high diplomatic plane, and it's supposed to jolt Russia into minding her business, but the agreement, after all, is a treaty.

The United States is the key member. And this country can't take part in a treaty unless the U. S. Senate approves by a two-thirds vote of its 96 members present at voting time.

Some weeks from now, after wading knee-deep through oratory for and against the Pact—the first peacetime military alliance in American history—the Senate is expected to approve, although this is certainly not positive.

* * *

What About Armament?

BUT THEN comes something else: That part of the agreement in which the 12 nations say they will arm themselves and help one another arm just in case—in case Russia should attack.

Since we're the biggest and best able to do the helping, President Truman is going to ask Congress to vote $1,000,000,000 or so to help our new allies equip themselves against attack.

And Congress may vote only a little of the money, or none at all, even though that might make the other pact-signers feel we're letting them down.

They might feel that way—and feel that the hoopla about signing the Pact was just hoopla and the Pact only a piece of paper—because they might think an alliance without arms isn't much of an alliance.

In despair, if they felt that way, they'd be a soft touch for Russia. They might crumble, one by one, leaving us high and dry and alone on a limb, surrounded in a communist world.

It isn't certain they'd feel that way, of course, if they didn't get the arms. They might think that having the U. S. as an ally was arms enough, believing we'd back them if the fight began.

But if you had sat week after week in the Senate gallery, you'd understand why it's questionable that Congress will vote a billion dollars to arm Europe, since we're going to spend $15 billion on our own armed forces, and $5 billion on Marshall Plan help for Europe.

And the reason for the question is the double mood that runs through the Senate now, a mood you'd sense if you looked at it: A mood of isolationism among some senators and of deep economy among others.

Those two moods will join forces when it is time to talk of arming Europe, and when that comes anything can happen.

Bear No Grudge For Anti-Pension Stand

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A handful of World War II congressmen who dared to oppose Representative Rankin's multibillion-dollar pension scheme had a showdown the other day with Perry Brown, national commander of the American Legion. The tight-lipped Texan not only promised to hold no grudges, but agreed with the anti-pension voting stand of the war veterans in Congress.

This was a backhanded slap at the Legion's crusty chief lobbyist, retired Brig. Gen. John Thomas Taylor, who had threatened to stir up local Legion posts against the young congressmen.

Because of his threats, Congressman Olin "Tiger" Teague of Texas wired the American Legion commander and brought him up to Capitol Hill. While Brown waited in the house restaurant, Teague herded other young congressmen down to see him.

Those joining the huddle included Congressman Glenn Davis of Wisconsin, Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, Jim Nolan of Indiana, Harold Patten of Arizona and George Smathers of Florida.

All had voted against fireball John Rankin's costly pension plan—known as "Rankin's Revenge"—because he sponsored it more to embarrass the administration than to help the veterans.

Speaking privately to the congressmen, Commander Brown gave his unofficial views on veterans' pensions. He couldn't speak for the record, he explained, because he couldn't afford to antagonize Rankin, who happens to be chairman of the House veterans committee and who is a wildcat-by-the-tail when riled.

However, Brown agreed privately that Rankin's motives were 90 per cent political and that his bill went too far. The commander stressed that he would still fight for a veterans' pension, but that he thought it should be limited to "needy veterans."

Brown also promised that the Legion would not campaign against the congressmen who opposed Rankin—despite Taylor's threats. Brown added, however, that he would not discipline Taylor, who has served the Legion faithfully for two decades and is scheduled to retire next year. Instead, Brown praised the old man for his long record of battling for the veterans when public sentiment was not always with them.

Won't Go To Dinner.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN really let a friend down when he canceled his scheduled speech at the testimonial dinner for Chaim Weizmann, first president of the new state of Israel.

The man who originally arranged for Truman's appearance at the dinner in New York was Col. Louis Johnson, forthright new secretary of national defense. Several months ago, Johnson dropped in at the White House and asked:

"Mr. President, do you remember when things were toughest during the campaign and we couldn't raise a cent? And do you remember who the first man was to stand up and say, 'I pledge $100,000 to reelect President Truman'? Well, it was Abe Feinberg."

"Oh, yes, I remember Abe," said the President. "He certainly did come through for us."

"Well, do you know what would make Abe Feinberg the happiest man in the whole world?" pursued Johnson.

"Do you think Abe wants an ambassadorship or a job or a medal?" Johnson continued.

The President then asked what would make him happy.

"Well, Mr. President," said Johnson, "the thing you could do to make Abe Feinberg happy would be to accept that invitation to speak for Chaim Weizmann in New York. You'd be honoring two great men if you did, Weizmann and Abe."

"All right, Louie," said the President, "I'll do it. You call up Abe and tell him it's O. K."

Johnson didn't call Feinberg, but presidential secretary Matt Connolly did. Johnson was right. Feinberg was about the happiest man in the U. S. A—until suddenly Truman changed his mind, decided he couldn't go to New York to attend the dinner.

Accurate Prediction.

THIS column has sometimes knocked the diplomats, but here's something it's a pleasure to report. It's about an American diplomat who was not asleep at the switch.

His name is James Hugh Keeley, U. S. minister to Syria, where a revolution has just overthrown the government in power. This revolt came as a complete surprise to almost every country but the United States—thanks to Mr. Keeley.

As early as nine months ago, Keeley cabled the state department predicting revolt in Syria. He followed this up with more reports in which he did everything but call the day for the revolt.

He even named the leader of the rebels—Brigadier Hosney El Zaim, the French-trained army leader.

Keeley now reports that the shooting is over, that there is nothing for the United States to worry about because the rebels are pro-American. Reason for the revolt, he says, is that Hosney El Zaim got disgusted with corruption in the old Syrian government and took things into his own hands, to give the younger men in Syria a chance at running things.

Business Recession.

THE President's Council of Economic Advisers has been alerted to the fact that business optimism will taper off even further in the next 60 days when reports of first-quarter earnings begin pouring in.

These will show that hundreds of important business firms either operated at a loss or showed sharply diminished first-quarter profits for the first time in 10 years. The council still thinks there will be no depression in 1949, but is worried about 1950 unless stringent steps are taken immediately.

Booster Extraordinary

By INEZ ROBB

FORT WORTH, Texas — Almost sixty years ago this community, then a small, roaring cow town, entertained a tourist unawares.

The tourist, a barefoot boy with cheek, had been lured to Fort Worth by tales of its grandeurs.

In his home town of Crafton, a dustry spot on the cross-roads of west Texas, he had heared there were platforms moving up and down, carrying passengers in tall buildings, thus doing away with the necessity of climbing stairs.

He had also heard another unlikely story, to wit, that Fort Worth homes were equipped with built-in Chic Sales.

Our Horatio Alger hero, for such indeed he is, rode the rods to Fort Worth to see for himself if such marvels really existed. They did, indeed, and by the time the elevator operator charged him not a single cent for riding to the top floor of Fort Worth's seven story skyscraper, the town of Fort Worth had made a permanent and ardent convert.

In the ensuing years, our tourist, one Amon Carter, did anything to keep body and britches together from waiting on table to acting as super salesman in a frame-and-photo enlargement business that took him into every nook and cranny of the nation.

But always the Carter heart hankered for Fort Worth. And in 1905, he finally turned to his spiritual home, never more to roam except on junkets that have taken him up and down and around and across the nation and world, bearing a banner with the strange device, "Fort Worth."

* * *

Always a "Booster".

NO OTHER individual and no other city in the United States are so inexplicably identified with each other as Amon Carter and Fort Worth.

The fact he is president and publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, one of the most sucessful papers in the country, has amassed millions in Texas oil and acquired a fortune in real estate is really subsidiary to his life work—the transformation of Fort Worth from a small cow town into a cosmopolis of cows, culture, chivalry, stock yards, industry and aviation.

Since Carter arrived here in 1905, he has prodded this community and its people into a Texas metropolis with all the exuberance and love of life of a convention-happy American Legionnaire applying an electric buzzer where it will do the most good.

Naturally, Fort Worth has gone forward by leaps and bounds—and so, oddly enough—has Dallas, the rival metropolis only 30 miles away whose mere name is a dirty word to Carter.

For Carter's life work has involved the invention, the nurture and magnification of the most lively inter-city rivalry in American civic history—the Fort Worth-Dallas feud by comparison with which the Hatfield-McCoy disagreement and the Capulet-Montague misunderstanding are mere slaps on the wrist.

Oddly, enough, the rivalry between the two cities—hopped up by Carter to goad Fort Worth to bigger and better things—has had the same stinging reaction on Dallas.

The latter city is still the largest, with a population of more than a half million, but the population of Fort Worth has jumped from around 40,000, when Carter arrived in 1905, to approximately 350,000 today.

"Fort Worth is where the West begins," Carter says proudly, and adds patronizingly "and Dallas is where the East peters out."

"I have been accused of being partisan to southwest Texas and to Dallas," he adds. "I don't believe you have to live in Fort Worth to get to heaven, but it won't be detrimental in case you get an invite."

Farmer's Diary

Those Marsh Marigolds

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE dark waters of the swamp surround a grassy island in the Honey Creek pasture lowland. Here, although it wasn't April yet, I found marsh marigolds in bloom, and brought home a bunch for the center of the Sunday dinner table.

The thick fleshy stems were clumped together, so that the yellow blooms made a sunny show against the quaking marshy sod. I sank in nearly to my ankles — and didn't care, because to be a part of a living scene like that was worth all the effort.

Shakespeare called them Mary - buds — "And winking mary-buds begin to ope their golden eyes." The watery meadows of Avon, I have heard, twinkle with marsh marigolds in the spring, when "the lark at heaven's gate sings."

Sometimes called cowslips or buttercups, perhaps because they grow in marshy pastures, frequented by cattle the flowers are of the Crowfoot family (Caltha Palustris). The greenness of the shiny leaves and fleshy stems, the starry-perfect flowers — five sepaled with many stamens — brought the atmosphere of Honey Creek indoors.

Like a sprig of arbutus from the edge of a snowbank along a mountain stream or rocky steep, rare wildflowers bring memories of the scene in which they grew.

The bees had found them, too, and small gaily colored flies. These are the pollinators who seek nectar from the sides of the many carpels.

The plant is said to be good for food—"greens as good as spinach," and the tender buds may be added to white sauce to give piquancy to boiled mutton. Certainly the stems and leaves look fleshy and succulent, and they grow so rapidly out of the marsh that they would seem to have a rare potency of their own. Sometime I would like to take time to try cooking wild foods, inventing my own recipes. Such a hobby might yield rich returns. Maybe we all work too hard to buy groceries. What did the Indians eat? (Out of the marsh grass, I picked up a white arrowhead.)

Wild game and fish (now nearly extinct); maize, wild berries, nuts, roots, wild honey. Perennial crops, seasoned by use of sprightly marsh plants and teas. It took a good share of their time hunting and preparing their food—but they didn't lack appetite, nor did they suffer from cancer, heart failure or obesity.

To him who meditates, "A cowslip by the river's brim" can be a beautiful living link between history and prophecy.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

Dave Boone Says:

IT IS announced at that Massachusetts Tech conference of scientists that, "Looking at man through a microscope and examining him carefully from a three-dimensional perspective," the scientists think he can, on the whole, look forward to a fairly long future on this earth.

* * *

Ordinarily that wouldn't fill us with optimism but, the way things are going today, it is positively cheering.

* * *

The scientists report that man is winning the battle against Nature but losing the one against himself. He can do more with a head of cabbage than he can with his personal problems. Just now, comparing man's head with the cabbagehead, the cabbage looks smarter.

Record State Budget Goes Before House for Action Today

2-Year Cost Pegged At 649 Million

Lausche Reiterates 'No New Tax' Stand

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Schools, local governments and state employes screamed to high heaven today because Governor Lausche's executive budget — despite its all-time record total of 649 million dollars — failed to grant them basic increases.

However, most Ohioans welcomed Lausche's renewed pledge of no news taxes.

It was still a bit early for formal protests — little good though they will do. But the lobbyists who crowded the packed galleries as Lausche personally presented his budget message to a joint session of the House and Senate made no bones of their dissatisfaction.

Nonetheless, despite the governor's intention of keeping expenditures roughly on the 1948 level, it will still cost Ohioans $649,461,445 to operate their state government for the two years beginning July 1.

General fund appropriations alone will total $522,245,546, or about 261 millions a year, as against 241 millions spent in 1948. The increase is not due to any basic increases, but merely to increased enrollment in schools, higher schedules already in effect for old age pensioners and state workers, and greatly expanded welfare institutional facilities.

The same formula for paying school subsidies, state salaries, local governments and old age pensions as was in effect the last quarter of last year will continue to apply.

The actual budget bill, based on the astronomical budget, was expected to be introduced in the House this afternoon under a suspension of rules approved by unanimous consent — needed since the deadline for introducing bills in the House already has passed.

In addition to the 649 millions, there will be a later "additions and betterments" bill for approximately 60 million dollars' worth of permanent capital improvements, leaving only ten millions of the present 70 million dollar surplus left as an "emergency fund" to meet unforseen contingencies.

Veteran Railman Retires, Plans to Go Fishing

By NITA BRANSON

W H Altweis, 66, a railroader since 1903, is going to catch up on his fishing.

Altweis retired April 1 after 46 years with the Pennsylvania railroad.

He began as a fireman on a small locomotive and wound up his career servicing the huge Diesels which have replaced the puffing steam locomotives.

A native of Tiffin, Altweis started as a fireman in Pittsburgh. In 1913 he was promoted to engineer and held that job until 1920 In that year Altweis had the flue and his recovery was slow. So he was advised to get out of the smoke and grime of the Pittsburgh area He chose Mansfield as the best place in which to regain his health and moved here with his family in 1920

"But when I came to Mansfield," Altweis remembers, "I could not hold my job as engineer because Mansfield is on the Fort Wayne division of the railroad and Pittsburgh is in the Panhandle division. So I took a job as car inspector in the Mansfield yards."

He held that position until his retirement

What is he going to do now that he's on the retirement list and has no more cars to inspect?

PLANS A GARDEN

"Well, I think I'll go fishing When it gets warmer I think I'll go to Bronson, Mich., where my sister has a cottage and just loaf and fish. In the meantime, though, I'm going to plant garden, both flowers and vegetables at my home"

He lives at 297 Ohio street. The family has lived at the Ohio street address since 1922

After the garden is planted and he gets in a little fishing Altweis has planned to take Mrs Altweis and start out on some traveling.

Since he has a life-time pass both for Mrs. Altweis and himself, traveling will be little more costly than staying at home

"There are a lot of places I want to see—Florida, and maybe California," he has decided. "Mrs. Altweis and I will just travel around until we get tired.'

Although Atlweis had never piloted one of the big Diesels, for the past 15 years he has gone down to meet the Red Arrow as it comes through Mansfield and has serviced its Diesel engine in recent years.

"There's been a big change in railroading since I started," he said. "In 1903 very few of the cars had air brakes, now it's a government regulation Cars must have them"

Since coming to Mansfield Altweis has been an active member both of St. Peter's Catholic church and the Knights of Columbus He has one daughter, Mrs. Gail Shively, and a grandson, Robert E Shively.

Children Register Saturday For Art Classes In City

The third term of Children's art classes, sponsored by the Mansfield Fine Art Guild and the City Recreation department, will start Saturday with registration at the Prospect park pavilion.

Registration of all new members will take place Saturday. The fee will be $1 instead of the customary $2 because this term will be short, Thomas Zaugg, Guild president, said today. The usual term has been 12 weeks. This final term will be only eight weeks, ending Saturday May 28.

The course of study will continue with individual instruction in the use of chalk, charcoal, pencil, water coloring and tempora painting, according to Mrs. Denzel M. Schaff, who supervises the art classes. Mrs. Schaaf and a group of other Mansfield artists teach each Saturday morning from 9 to 11 11 a. m.

With the advent of spring and warmer weather, it is expected that classes this quarter will concentrate on outdoor painting. The children who have been in the classes during the year are painting in tempora now and are producing some fine work, according to Zaugg.

"We are planning another exhibit of the children's work in a few weeks so that parents and friends may see what is being done," Zaugg said "And we may include some of the best in our annual Guild exhibit but that is as yet indefinite."

Board Takes Applications For Ballots

Absent Voters Must Apply By April 28

Applications for absent voters ballots are being received at the board of elections office in the courthouse The deadline for applying for the ballots is 6.30 p. m. April 28.

Persons who find they will be unavoidably absent from the county on the primary date, May 3, may vote by absent voters ballot, election officials said.

The absence must be at a distance of more than 10 miles from the voter's precinct The application must be made in person or by writing.

Students away at college retain their Mansfield address for voting purposes.

Beginning April 18 and continuing to the April 28 date, disabled voters may apply for absent voter's ballots, stating the nature of their illness or disability, which prevents them from traveling to an election booth in their precinct.

Persons in service may vote by armed service absent voter's ballot which will be received to Saturday, April 30.

Take Postal Station Bids

The Mansfield post office will receive bids for operating each of the four sub-stations in the city to 2 p. m. April 16, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford announced today. The bids will be opened at that time.

Present contracts expire June 30 and the new contracts call for operating the sub-tsations for a two-year period, from July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1951.

Ford said proposal forms and complete information may be obtained at the post office. The bids must call for operating the sub-stations in the same general locality of the present sites, Ford said.

Present locations of the four sub-stations are at Park avenue west and Rowland avenue, Springmill and Bowman streets; 270 South Diamond street, and at Orange street and Central avenue.

BRUCE E. PIERCE

GALION — Services were held yesterday in the Snyder funeral home for Bruce Eugene Pierce, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pierce of 598 South Boston street, Galion. Burial was in Rivercliff cemetery, Mt. Gilead. The baby was born Monday morning at City Hospital, and died at 10 p. m., the same day.

Surviving are the parents, two sisters, Shirley Jean and Diane Kay Pierce, both at home, the grandparents, George Pierce of Shelby; and Mrs. Myrtle Herron of Mt. Gilead.

Sohio Dealers To Meet In City

More than 150 Sohio dealers will come to Mansfield Thursday for a dinner at 6 30 p. m. in the Sons of Herman Hall. Described as a "Spring Changeover" meeting, the Sohio sales and service program will be outlined by F. M. Tarr, Mansfield division manager, and H. D. Klee.

Paint Bids Rejected

Bids for contracts to paint the exteriors of the two veteran's housing projects in Mansfield were rejected yesterday by the Mansfield Metropolitan Housing authority.

E. R. Friday, secretary and director of the authority, said the four bids received were turned down because none of them was accompanied by a certified check for five per cent of the bid, or a bond as specified in the advertisement.

Friday said the authority would re-advertise for bids starting today, with the new bids to be opened April 20 at noon.

Ex-Inmate Sent to Lima .

Bobbie Dale Reynolds, 25, of Canton, who was released from the Mansfield reformatory on a writ of habeas corpus because of mental disability, was sent to the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane yesterday.

Reynolds was arrested March 3 on charges of robbing a gas station in Canton. Common Pleas Judge Paul W. Weber of Canton in ordering Reynolds sent to Lima, stipulated he would be returned to face robbery charges if deemed mentally competent.

Reynolds was ordered released from the Reformatory in January by the Fifth District Court of Appeals meeting in Mansfield when the court found that Reynolds, was sentenced to the Reformatory although he was mentally incompetent to enter a plea of guilty.

See the new DESOTO before you decide on any other car at any price!

Compare the others with "The Car Designed with YOU in Mind"

You cannot compare the new cars merely by looking at pictures . . . or by watching them on the highway. You've got to get behind the wheel yourself.

That's why we urge you to come and see this new De Soto before you decide on any other car.

You notice the difference right away. De Soto's doors are wide. You walk in . . . and keep your hat on. The steering wheel doesn't hit your knees. You're on chair-high seats, so that you get all the benefit of the larger windows and windshield.

You've got full stretch-out leg room, front and back. And you've got more luggage space in that flush-floor trunk than you ever dreamed of before.

Yes, De Soto is lower. It's got a longer wheelbase (all passengers ride between the axles). But there's no penalty for these advantages. Overall length and breadth are not increased. You needn't rebuild your garage. You can still change a tire. And a dented fender doesn't mean an expensive body repair job.

Let us show you all the new features of the car that lets you drive without shifting. Compare it for beauty, comfort, safety and value. Then decide.

Tune in "HIT THE JACKPOT" every Tuesday night, all CBS stations

DE SOTO FEATURES THAT MEAN MORE ENJOYMENT EVERY MILE

Air Blanket Predicted

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The government aims to cover the nation with new skyways over which civilian and military planes can fly in vastly increased numbers, on time, regardless of weather.

Civil Aeronautics Administrator D. W. Rentzel told a House Appropriations subcommittee that the weather problem must be licked if air traffic is to increase beyond present limits. This is the key to putting airlines on a paying basis, he said.

The subcommittee recommended a $7,000,000 appropriation for the government's air navigation development board which is working on the necessary radar and other electronic devices.

This work eventually may cost $80,000,000. And installation of the devices themselves may run to $1,000,000,000 over 10 to 15 years.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles: else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Ohio druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Over a quarter million bottles of this preparation, called Rennel Concentrate have been sold in Ohio in the past 1½ years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Rennel from any Ohio druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money. —Adv.

HEALTH NEWS

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. Horne, a German scientist, discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small areas, about fifteen feet below the ground surface, was a layer of mineral bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there, and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick, and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency. Lack of minerals makes your blood weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal youth and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. Geo-Mineral then is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in your stomach. It is a mineral-iron supplement and adds rich red blood, helps to build you up and assists your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE urge everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded in full.

TRY it today—it may do wonders for you, and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

SHOW Geo-Mineral to your doctor and let him tell you, after he reads the formula on the label, about its merit. GEO-MINERAL contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Natural mineral ingredients highly recommended by the medical profession.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds made."

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Thursday, April 7

An open, forthright and honest approach to hidden or deceptive sources may improve or give restored confidence in strange, elusive or perhaps mysterious circumstances. Or in relation to persons of a tricky, queer or hypocritical character. Such undercurrents may be dragged into the open to melt away under the light of day, or by keen and shrewd analysis. The deal may be costly, with funds of resources put in jeopardy unless drastic and comprehensive tactics be brought to bear. Count the cost before involvements of dubious quality. Friendship, domestic or social ties, are in the balance.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find opportunity for attacking some pernicious, treacherous or curious set of circumstances, baffling, mysterious and elusive. An honest and unequivocal effort at dragging perplexing and eccentric situations into the light, but with discrimination, justice and charity. Misplaced confidence, betrayal or emotional entanglements demand open-and-above-board manipulation, but pause to count the cost, in all relations, private, business or professional. Eccentric personalities are to be summarily but cautiously reckoned with.

A child born on this day may have a singular conflict of character, with certain depths of sinister import, but with noble, honest and straight-forward intentions. Early training is recommended.

Incorporate Bit And Spur Club

Atty. George W. Coble of Galion incorporated the Richland County Bit and Spur Club at their recent meeting at Johns Park pavilion. Chosen for a second term as president of the 55 member club was Clarence Williams. He will be assisted by Rex Wilcox, vice president; Mrs. Harry McConnell, secretary, and also serving her second term in office; and Miss Juanita Shaffer, treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the annual horse show to be held late in the summer. The club prize for the evening was awarded to Miss Joan Kelley of Ashland. Refreshments were served by the committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reindl and Mrs. and Mrs. Kent Rummel. The club was organized in 1944.

Miss McCauslin to Head Nature Club

The Mansfield Nature club enjoyed a hike through Gatton Woods, after which a covered dish dinner was served at the home of Mrs. H. M. Spandau, German-Church road.

A business meeting followed the dinner and election of officers was held. Miss Helen McCauslin will serve as president; Miss Beryl Glenn, vice president; Miss Virginia Howard, secretary; Miss Marjorie Hayward, treasurer; and Misses Helen and Ruth Lindbeck, program chairmen.

Members of the board of directors are Mrs. Albert Wiseman, Mr. H. M. Spandau and Mr. L. S. Barr.

20th Anniversary Observed By Alpha Pi Sigma Sorority

MANSFIELD'S OLDEST SORORITY chapter, Alpha Epsilon Alpha Pi Sigma, celebrated its 20th anniversary Tuesday evening with a dinner party.

The twenty-two members present held the dinner at Susie Janis home. Carpenter road. Easter appointments decorated the table. A centerpiece of rabbits and colored eggs carried out the theme, Hostesses for this session were Mrs. Carol Ackerman, Miss Betty McGregor and Miss Grace Crotty.

A short business session was conducted by the presidnet. Plans were discussed for the Mother's day tea with Mrs. Richard Sheads, Mrs. Raymond Beal and Mrs. Ralph Norris appointed to serve on that committee.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening. When scores were tallied prizes were awarded to Mrs. R. B. Anderson, Miss Marjorie Miles and Mrs. Robert W. Moore.

Preceding the dinner the members held a cocktail party.

Officers for the coming year were announced at this time. They are Miss Marjorie Miles, president; Mrs. Marjorie Huffman, vice president; Miss Crotty corresponding secretary; Miss Marie Kalbfleisch, fincial secretary; Miss Mary Stover, prelate; Mrs. Norris, master of work, and Miss McGregor, sergeant-at-arms.

On April 13, 1929, the supreme officers of the sorority came to Mansfield to install Alpha Epsilon chapter. At this time there were ten charter members. During the year 1931 the group installed Alpha Mu chapter at Shelby.

The members have been represented each year at the national convention. At the 1931 convention at Conneaut Lake, Pa., the Mansfield group was awarded the prize for the article in the yearbook "Tattler."

Mrs. Beal held the office of supreme prelate at the 1943 convention in Cleveland. At the 1944 convention, also held in Cleveland, they were awarded the prize for their contributions to the Newsy News, a monthly publication. The prize was again won at the 1945 convention in Columbus.

During the period of World War II, the members sold war bonds and stamps in theaters, sponsored a dance for the soldiers in neighboring camps and a joint dance with another sorority for the Red Cross; and contributed toward various charitable institutions for the soldiers.

In January 1946, Miss Kalbfleisch was awarded a certificate of honorary membership in the chapter. This was in recognition of fifteen years of active membership.

At the convention in Springfield, in 1947, Miss Garnet Karl was elected to the office of supreme master of work, and in 1948 at the convention in Columbus, Miss Karl was elected to the office of supreme treasurer.

The chapter now has a membership roll of thirty-three.

Book Club Closes Season

A 1 o'clock luncheon Tuesday closed the scheduled meetings of the year for the Tuesday Book club. The last session was held at the home of Mrs Donald S. Black, Raemelton House, Marion avenue with twenty-two in attendance.

The home was beautifully decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Spring floral centerpieces were also on the three luncheon tables.

Mrs. Norman L. Wolfe, president, presided for the business session, at which time the program committee for the coming year was announced. Mrs. Carl Schwier is the chairman with Miss Hazel Underwood and Mrs. Harold Bruce assisting her. Questionnaires were distributed among the members concerning plans for next year.

A talk on the method and priviledge of voting was given by Republican candidate for mayor, Thomas Wright.

Mrs. Louis J. Ott jr. gave a paper on the literary prize books of the year. She covered the prize books of England, France and Germany, as well as this country.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

Miss Mable Charles conducted the quiz program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Glenn Leonard, Miss Cora Charles, Mrs. Paul Roethlisberger and Mrs. Howard Stevick. On May 3 the group will meet in the parish house for a regular session.

Mrs. S. D. Hoover Elected President of Tourist Club

MRS. S. D. HOOVER was elected president of the Tourist Club at a meeting yesterday at the Women's Club which was attended by seventeen members.

Other officers elected were Mrs. I S. Perry, vice-president, Mrs. D. C. Cole, secretary and Mrs. Harry Bowers, treasurer. Mrs. W. L. Parkinson presided as hostess.

The program was opened by Mrs. George J. Kochenderfer who introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles F. Sheriff Mrs. Sheriff entertained the club with several readings, including, "The Great Day Mathilda Voted" by John Kendricks Bangs, "The Watchmen" by William Drake and "On Being Clinic" by Alice Higgin Rice. She closed with two of her own compositions, "Lilacs" and "My Garden".

Mrs. John Shock reviewed a magazine article written by Attilio Gatti who was head of the Gatti expedition to the "mountains of the moon". The article told of his experiences in his search for an accused thief among his seven helpers in the Kenya Colony, Africa. The author, with some outside help, finally apprehends the thief.

The next meeting will be held April 26 at the Women's Club with Mrs. Weldon Close as hostess. The topic "Grand Opera Story" will be presented by Mrs. C. C. Wadsworth.

Arras Home Scene Of E. T. Meeting

The E T. club met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Estella Arras 641 Springmill street. There were fifteen members and one guest, Miss Anne Foren, present.

The business meeting was followed by a social hour during which gifts were presented to Miss Jesse Eckert. Mrs. John Vrbanac and Miss Foren. A late luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held April 19 at the home of Miss Ethel McClure, 144½ Bowman street.

Fete Miss Cole With Showers

Miss Elizabeth Cole, bride-elect of Paul C. Scott, was honored with two showers recently. On March 28, Mrs. Herbert Palmer, 398 Hammond avenue entertained fourteen guests at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Cole.

Spring flowers decorated the home and a gift of linen was presented to the honoree from the hostess. A late luncheon was served.

The Sunday school class of the Mayflower Congregational church honored the bride-elect with a crystal shower, Monday, at the home of Mrs. Edward Pifer, 344 North Mulberry street. The associate hostess was Mrs. Frank Ladd.

The complete set of crystal, which the group presented to the honoree, was displayed on a linen table cloth in place settings. Twenty members of the class were present. The diversion of the evening was the making of a bride's book. A dessert luncheon was served late in the evening.

The couple will be married April 7 in an open church ceremony at 8 p. m. Rev. Arthur F. Lindbeck will officiate.

Triple-A Signs Up 1,373 Farms Under 1949 Federal Program

Richland Total Shows Drop of 92

$66,560 Allocated To County Area

The Agricultural Conservation Program of the Richland County AAA lost 92 participating farms in the past year, Guy L. Taylor, county Triple-A chairman, announced today.

Farms signed up for the 1949 ACP numbered 1,373, while 1,465 farmers were engaged in A A A - approved agricultural practices in 1948.

More than 92 farms dropped out of the program, but enough new farms were recruited to than last year, Taylor said.

Farmers enrolled in the program will receive a much larger check from the government than those participating last year, since $66,560 was allotted to Richland county, $31,720 more more than last year, Taylor said.

Average payment to farmers in 1948 was $23.78. With fewer farmers in the AAA and more money allocated this year the average check per farm will be $48.48.

The difference in the Richland county allocation in the years 1948 and 1949 was attributed by the AAA office to the indecision of Congress on whether to continue the Agricultural Conservation program.

In 1947, when the ACP was in full sway, Richland county received $89,000 for its 1,451 farms engaged in the ACP.

Business Up 20 Per Cent

The three Farm Bureau Insurance companies, with home offices in Columbus, have shown an increase of 20 per cent in the number of policy holders in the last year, Murray D. Lincoln, president and general manager, announced today, in presenting the companies' annual reports.

The companies are the Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile, Mutual Fire, and Life Insurance companies.

With 1,150,000 policies in effect today, the company paid out in policy claims an all-time high of $18,205,000 to its policy holders in 12 eastern states and the District of Columbus.

Probe Girl's Death

INJURIES CLAIM FARMER

TIFFIN — (AP) — Francis G. Wade, 94, a farmer of nearby Fort Senaca, injured in a fall last September, died yesterday.

SPRING PLOWING—In the desolation that once was Berlin's famed Tiergarten, two hopeful Berliners plod along behind their horses as they plough for a vegetable garden. The statue of a moose is a remnant of the one-time grandeur of the Tiergarten, popular with Germans and pre-war tourists.

New Vitamin-Rich Feeds Make Animals Burst at Seams

MEMPHIS —(AP)— Some new livestock feeds are so powerful animals burst their seams if fed too much of it.

Dr. H. J. Prebluda, nutritionist, told the National Farm Chemurgic council that scientists will have to breed new animals with greater capacities to handle food.

Farmers are demanding animals that grow faster on less food so they can increase their profits.

New high energy feeds are rich in vitamins, especially the new vitamin, B12, found in what is called the "animal protein factor." They are low in materials, such as fiber, that do not generate energy in animals. This causes rapid growth.

Dr. Prebluda said when these feeds are fed to poultry it is like pouring rich coal into a furnace. Rich coal needs a good draft to burn efficiently. But the birds are not capable of burning rich feeds under draft. They burst the limits of the capacity to handle food. They have a physical breakdown.

Dr. Prebluda, nutritionist for U S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc, New York, said genticists can breed animals with greater ability to grow rapidly. And this, he said, is being done.

But don't look for these nutrition scientists to produce giants. What Dr. Prebluda wants to do is develop animals that put on the greatest weight and mature in the shortest time on the least food. This saves the farmer money and produces cheaper meat.

He said only a short time ago it took 3½ pounds of feed to produce one pound of broiler meat. Now a pound of poultry meat can be produced from 2½ pounds of feed. Birds that reach top weight in 14 weeks on old type feeds reach top weight in nine weeks on the new feeds, he said But they could grow even faster if they could handle the rich feeds better.

Grange Heads Meet

SHELBY — Richland county Grange masters, past masters, and their wives will meet at the Union Grange hall April 11 at 8 p. m.

Grange programs and activities for the coming year will be discussed and organized at the meeting.

Saves Two Children

CANTON — (INS) — Mrs. Edgar Swinehart of Canton was credited today with saving the lives of two small boys who were trapped in the back seat of a blazing automobile.

Calls DDT Harmless

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The government denies what it called recent misleading statements that the insecticide DDT is spreading disease and contaminating milk.

The department of agriculture and the federal security agency yesterday issued a joint statement praising DDT, and reassuring the public that its use is not harmful to humans or animals.

The agriculture department said it has modified its recommendation on the use of DDT on dairy, cattle, but explained this was "merely a precautionary measure."

"There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of DDT contamination," the statement said.

"Statements that DDT is responsible for causing the so-called Virus X disease of man and X disease of cattle are totally without foundation. Both of these diseases were recognized before the utilization of DDT as an insecticide."

The Yangtze River is China's longest and most important water-way, running east and west for some 3,000 miles.

Clean-up Drive Can Save Farm Dollars, Agent Says

This is national farm clean-up week, and Richland county farm families are being urged to spruce up their properties.

The campaign is designed to promote beauty and safety, farm authorities said.

C. N. McGrew, county extension agent, said the program could save the farmers of Richland county thousands of dollars.

Farm and farm home accidents cost Ohio farmers more than $7,000,000 a year, McGrew pointed out, with the majority of the causes directly attributed to machinery, falls, animals, and hand tools, in that order.

In the clean-up campaign, McGrew suggested old and worn ladders and stairs in out-buildings be repaired along with an inspection of loose flooring in hay mows now that the hay is getting low.

Falls from hay mows, ladders, and other high places accounted for nearly 20 per cent of the farm accidents in Ohio in the past year.

The National Fire Protection association strongly urged the destroying of the winter's accumulation old papers, rags, feed bags, and discarded wooden boxes and furniture which present one of the greatest fire hazards on farms in the spring.

All farm buildings should have a spring check-up with close attention paid to lightning rods which are easily loosened by ice during the winter, the NFPA advised.

Two Commissioners Face Trial May 16

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Franklin county Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett will prosecute indictments against commissioners Harry T. Vigor and C. P. Lauderbaugh and fromer commissioner George W. Matson when they go on trial May 16.

The three are charged with misconduct in office in connection with alleged mishandling of more than $337,000 in veterans housing funds.

Foods Need Protection

WOOSTER — Good packages are necessary to protect quality of frozen fruits and vegetables during cold storage, says R. R. Barton of the department of horticulture of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

Otherwise undesirable changes occur, such as brownish areas due to oxygen coming in contact with the frozen product, and wrinkling and drying due to loss of moisture.

Several types of packages will protect fruits and vegetables. Most frequently used is the lightly waxed square or rectangular paper board box fitted with a heat sealed, moisture-vapor proof inner bag of moisture-proof material.

This type of container permits the removal of practically all air before sealing. It also occupies less space in storage.

'Super' Air Power Plant Revealed

Curtiss-Wright Unveils Engine

NEW YORK — (UP) — A new type of aircraft engine—one that may be used to propel atom-bomb carrying planes to any part of the world and back without stopping—was shown publicly for the first time yesterday.

The engine, while most of its details are a military secret, is known to develop "more than 5,000" horsepower. An engine in the B-50 bomber develops 3,500 horsepower.

The new "power plant" was developed by the Curtiss-Wright corporation, and already has been tested in flight. Several months ago, it successfully kept a B-17 bomber on level flight after the bomber's four regular engines had been stopped; thus, it was doing the work of four engines.

The new engine, combining the use of compressed air and burning fuel, such as gasoline, to manufacture energy, is about six feet in diameter and 13 feet in length. It uses a propeller with a length of 17 to 19 feet.

Technically, it is known as Wright "Typhoon," first of several turbine-type power plants designed by the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

It reduces greatly the number of moving parts, such as connecting rods, pistons, etc. One spark plug can be used to ignite the fuel. Combustion continues on after the single spark plug is turned off.

Curtiss-Wright engineers, restricted in their explanation of the engine because of security regulations, said that it would enable the building of larger planes—aircraft that could takeoff with a heavier supply of fuel, and bombs, for that matter.

The engine, it was said, will enable large planes to approach the speed of sound, which is 750 miles an hour at ground atmosphere.

Trees With Schizophrenia Prove Too Much For Tree Psychiatrist

NEWS ITEM: "Science produces hybrid trees that grow two to three times as fast as ordinary trees."

When Gilbert and Millicent Warb moved into their newly built home, they decided they wanted two trees in the front yard.

So they called in Jonathan Spray, a professional landscaper, and explained their problem.

"We want trees that will grow fast," said Millicent.

"Well, it isn't easy to hurry an acorn," barked the nature salesman. "But we want to please everybody—so we're trying."

"How?"

"By cross-breeding trees and plants of all kinds," said Jonathan. "Some of these hybrids grow so fast you have to jump out of the way after you water them. I've got a couple of hybrids in stock now. But I warn you they are still in the experimental stage."

"We'll take them," said Gilbert.

So Jonathan Spray planted the trees in front of the Warbs' home, one on each side of the flagstone walk.

Two years later one tree had crawled over to the house, climbed up the porch and shot so high into the sky Gilbert had to put a red lantern on it to warn away airplanes at night. People came from miles away to see it.

The second tree was a sorry sight—stunted, twisted thing no taller than Jimmy Durante and covered all over with hundreds of small hard objects bristling with spikes. Gilbert called it "our wart bush."

"It must be sick," said Millicent. "I'm going to phone a tree doctor."

Half an hour later a red-painted car, sirens screaming, wheeled to the curb. On the side of the car was painted: "Tree Ambulance."

The doctor strode across the lawn with an air of professional calm. First he inspected the towering tree.

"Wonderful!" he said. "Wonderful specimen!"

"Every evening I have to saw off a couple of limbs for fear they'll grow into the room and strangle me in my sleep," said Gilbert proudly.

"No wonder," said the doctor. "Your tree is a cross between a redwood and a morning glory vine."

Then he walked over to the dwarf tree. He opened his kit, took out a stethoscope, and held it against the trunk. He made more tests.

"Its sap pressure is normal," he said. "And it's organically sound. There's nothing I can do. I sugegst you call in a tree psychiatrist."

"A what?" chorused the Warbs.

"A tree psychiatrist. I recommend Dr. Cortex. He's doing some real pioneering in treating horticultural anxiety."

So Dr. Cortex came, stretched himself out on a cot by the tiny tree, and listened all afternoon to its leaves.

"It's a simple case of frustration," he said. "Your hybrid has a split personality—it is half apple, half thorn tree. The thorn personality doesn't give a whoop what happens. The apple personality is serious. It wants to grow apples you can eat."

"You mean it's like a porcupine that's unhappy because it can't give milk?" asked Gilbert.

"Yes," said the psychiatrist.

"O, dear, what can we do?" murmured Millicent.

"Humor it," said Dr. Cortex. "Make it feel useful. Eat a few of those knobs it thinks is apples. That'll encourage it."

"We will like the devil!" shouted Gilbert. "I don't want any more schizophrenia in my front yard. I'm going to dig up that wart bush, and tear down that big vine that thinks it's a redwood tree. I'm going to plant a couple of good old honest elm trees—and let them grow anyway they want to."

He did, too. Who wants trees as confused as people?

Wet Roads Blamed As 6 Are Hurt

Shelby Man Confined To Hospital

Two Mansfielders and four Shelby residents, including two seven-year-old children, were injured late yesterday on rain-slippery highways in the Shelby vicinity.

Injured were:

Mrs. Virginia Ludwig, 26, of rear 372 Fifth avenue.

Shirley Ludwig, 7, of the Fifth avenue address.

LeRoy Frakes, 36, of 30 Walnut street, Shelby.

Edwin Sifferlin, 52, of 79 North Broadway, Shelby.

James Sifferlin, 7, of the same address.

Phil Keller, 76, of 204 West Main street, Shelby.

The elder Sifferlin was the only one of the six injured who remained in Shelby Memorial hospital today. All others were given first aid at the hospital and released. Sifferlin was reported in "fairly good" condition. X-rays were taken today to determine extent of injuries.

State highway patrolmen said all three accidents in which the injuries occurred were on State Route 61. The accidents involving the Sifferlin father and son and Keller and the one involving Mrs. Ludwig and her daughter occurred at approximately 4:30 p. m.

Mrs. Ludwig and her daughter suffered cuts and bruises when their car skidded off the highway one-half mile south of Plymouth and overturned.

Officers said Sifferlin lost control of his car on a curve five and two-tenths miles north of Shelby and collided whith the car driven by Keller. Keller and the Sifferlin boy suffered cuts and abrasions of the face and body.

Frakes suffered abrasions of the face and knees at 11 p. m. when he lost control of his car which overturned on wet pavement one and one-half miles south of Shelby on Route 61.

BIG GUN ON DISPLAY—Capt. C. C. Castor points out the recoil mechanism of a 155mm rifle, on display in Central park for Army Day. With him are members of the office staff of the Organized Army Reserve in Mansfield. Capt. Castor is the assistant unit instructor of the Army group, under Capt. R. M. Flynn, unit instructor of the Army Reserve. Looking on with Capt. Castor, from left to right, are Sgt. 1st Class A. J. DelFavero, Master Sgt. E. W. Barrett, Pvt. Ralph Martinez, and Pfc. Richard H. Wright.

Showers Hit Observance

Rain Dampens City's Army Day Program

Raincoats were in vogue in Central park today as Mansfield held its annual Army day observance. Army personnel, in raincoats, explained the artillery exhibited there as the Army's role in national defense was spotlighted.

Capt. R. M. Flynn, unit instructor of the Mansfield Organized Army Reserve unit, provided a 155mm rifle (the famous "Long Tom" of World War II) and a 105mm howitzer for the principal display in Central park.

Men of the Army Reserve and recruiting offices are explaining the functions and ranges of the guns throughout the day.

Company F of the Ohio National guard, commanded by Capt. Charles A. Boughton, is holding open house at the Armory on Ashland road this afternoon. Machine guns, rifles, and mortars used by the National Guardsmen in their training program will be on display. Other veterans' organizations are holding open houses.

Art Guild Opens Drive

The 1949 membership drive for enrollment in the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild will start Thursday, April 14, Thomas Zaugg president, announced today.

The drive will be under the direction of Mrs. Harry Cave, chairman of the membership committee.

In preparation for the start of the campaign, Mrs. Cave has mailed letters explaining the ideals of the Guild and the goal it hopes to achieve, to all present members and others interested in the promotion of an art program in the city.

"Every city of 40,000 should be proud of its cultural side, which includes the Three Arts," Mrs. Cave said in her letter. "Two of the Three Arts, Music and Drama, are already established in Mansfield. We need the support of every interested person to give Art a permanent place."

The yearly program of the Guild includes, besides the children's art classes each Saturday morning, a working group of adults who meet regularly for art work, and an annual exhibit. Details of the exhibit will be announced later, Zaugg said.

Hold Smoker

Members of the South and Maple Lake parks association will hold a smoker at the North Lake park shelter house today at 8 p. m., according to Harvey Fitzsimmons, president. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Give Concert Friday Night

Madison high school's annual spring concert will be presented at the high school at 8 p. m. Friday, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Whitworth.

This year's program has been arranged in four separate parts.

The first part will be a short band concert with music by the high school band.

Following the band's appearance, there will be an Indian scene with musicians dressed in Indian costumes.

The third part of the program is entitled Potpourri, a mixture. The choir will sing several numbers and a small band will play.

In addition to numbers by the band and choir, there will be instrumental and vocal solos by students, and several selections by ensembles.

Carolyn McElhaney and Beverly Hunt will play the piano accompaniment for special numbers.

Lamb Unit Fete Slated Thursday

The Richland-Huron Sheep and Lamb Improvement committee will hold its annul dinner Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Greenwich high school.

The annual election of the board of directors will take place. Five from each county will be named.

The last lamb pool of the season at the Greenwich yards will be held tomorrow.

Park Group Plans New Youth Program

Plans for organizing a North Lake Park Junior association for teen-agers living in the park area were made at a special meeting for teen-agers held at the park last night.

Frank Gillingham, president of the adult association, was in charge of the meeting. Twenty-two young people discussed plans for setting up a recreation center for teen-agers at the park.

It is expected that baseball games, dancing and other recreation will be made available for young people.

An organizational meeting will be held at the park April 19. All teen-agers in the area are invited to attend.

A committee composed of William Wilmoth, Russell Weaver, and Donald Cameron is working with Gillingham on the youth project.

At the conclusion of the business meeting last night, Don Morrison showed movies, including a home movie taken by his father on a trip through the west.

AZO Trial To Resume

COLUMBUS —(INS) — The trial of 12 sympathizing American Zinc Oxide pickets was to resume today in Columbus with the issues of communism and the Progressive party in the foreground.

The 12 were arrested for violating a court order banning all pickets at the plant gates.

Among those arrested was Hugh Delacey, 38, former U. S. congressman from Seattle, and Mrs. Anna Morgan, wife of a former Ohio State university museum curator ousted for alleged communist affiliations.

Delacey now directs the Ohio third party from Cleveland.

Neil Leibster, 23, was handed a 10-day jail sentence yesterday when he refused to state whether he was a Progressive party member. However, Judge Dana F. Reynolds withdrew the sentence when the witness admitted he belonged to the third party.

Meanwhile, the Columbus CIO council indicated it might withdraw support from the smelter workers because of progressive party "interference."

Pupils Give Play

The junior class of Union high school will present a play, "Atomic Blonde," by Jay Tobias, at Adario at 8 p. m. Thursday. Miss Celia Lansing, English teacher, will direct the play.

Shows Film On Cancer

Charles K. Spreng, chairman of the Mansfield Cancer campaign, presented some startling facts about cancer yesterday in a talk before the Mansfield Rotary club.

Using a movie to illustrate his talk Spreng showed how cancer is killing one of every eight persons in the United States.

The color movie illustrated the precautionary measures one should take to discover the disease before it is too late.

He also explained the functions of the local chapter of the American Cancer society and how the $18,000 to be collected in Mansfield and Richland county will be equally divided between the national headquarters and the Mansfield Chapter.

The drive to raise funds for the American Cancer society is being held in the county from April 18 to 30.

Rotarian John W. Cook was program chairman for the meeting.

Death Takes N. Kapusha, 60

Nickolous Kapusha, 60, died this morning at his home at 485 Wayne street, after a year's illness. Born in Romania, Mr. Kapusha came to Mansfield 35 years ago. He worked as a molder at the Tappan Stove company for 35 years. He leaves his widow, Anna, as the only survivor.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be conducted Friday at 1:30 p. m. by Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Mr. Kapusha's fellow workers at the Tappan company will act as pallbearers.

Steel Price Drops, More Cuts Forecast

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — The nation's No. 1 price index—the cost of steel—dipped today.

Inland Steel company, big independent producer, dropped its price on steel rails $6 a ton. And industry observers predicted price breaks will surge through steel catalogs.

Backers Outline Campaign

35 Hear Aims At Session

The formation of a Citizens committee to push the council-manager type of government for Mansfield got off to a flying start last night at a meeting attended by 35 persons in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The group heard three leaders in the city manager movement discuss plans for a public rally April 19.

Scheduled to talk at the rally is Walter J. Millard of Cincinnati, an authority on the city manager form of government.

J. C. Gorman, temporary co-chairman of the manager plan organizers, said people are tired of the way city affairs have been handled. He said his committee had received numerous letters and phone calls promising support.

Gorman said the only ones opposed to the plan are the politicians on both sides. "They can't see it," he said, "because it upsets their gravy train."

The Citizens' committee will have at least 150 members.

"Everybody is welcome," Gorman said. "No one is barred. We will go to every organization in town. Everybody interested will be invited. I'm asking you to interest others." He said the actual formation of the committee will take place at the meeting April 19.

PERMANENT COMMITTEE

Gorman asserted that the Citizens committee would continue to operate after the plan went into effect "to keep an accurate check so that the politicians can't bore in and undermine it and spoil the good things that have been accomplished."

Stuart M. Weaver, executive vice-president of the Ideal electric company, in answer to a question from the audience explained that the city's government body—the council—would be elected at large on a non-partisan ticket. Weaver was at one time city manager at Montclair, N. J.

Weaver added that the manager has the responsibility to select personnel qualified to do the job.

"He selects them on the basis of merit," he said. "I can't think of anything more democratic than selecting people to do public work on the basis of merit.

"Frequently, that's not true in the partisan government where the mayor and the council have as their objectives—to stay in office. One way they stay in office is to build up a loyal machine. They appoint people not to do a good job—but for their ability to get out the vote.

"That's based on getting the vote for the party in power—and that's not democratic as I see it."

He asserted that the manager tries to do an outstanding job because it means moving to jobs in bigger cities. "He tries to perform in such a manner that he will be recognized by the people of his city and by other cities. He is selfish in that way, but his selfishness runs parallel to the people's interests."

Desmond Walker, president of Local 17, United Rubber Workers, explained that petitions are circulated and after 10 per cent of the registered voters have signed them, they're sent to city council which according to law, must pass legislation putting the question of a council-manager form of government on the ballot.

Voters, will ballot on that question and at the same time elect a charter commission of 15 members. The commission must draw up a city charter within a year. Walker said. The charter is then presented to the voters and if approved, then the manager form goes into effect after the end of the term of office of the incumbents.

Dr. Tonney Aids In Rescue Of Illinois Fire Victims

Dr. Fred O. Tonney, former Mansfield health commissioner, told the News-Journal yesterday the entire community at Effingham, Ill., where fire razed St. Anthony's hospital, killing an estimated 80 persons Tuesday morning, was in a "state of schock."

Dr. Tonney, who is health commissioner for both Effingham and Shelby counties, Illinois, was in Shelbyville when the fire broke out and did not arrive in Effingham until the worst was over.

But he remained to help in the emergency of caring for the 44 patients who escaped the blazing inferno by jumping out windows or being dragged out through the smoke and flames by hospital staff members.

Yesterday he said the six nurses who make up the health department's staff had offered services to the doctors of the vicinity in helping care for the patients, who were housed in nearby hospitals and homes.

Two nuns of the Catholic hospial Dr. Tonney said, died when they refused to leave the nursery, where they were guarding the new-born babies.

The Red Cross, Dr. Tonney said, toook over immediately, bringing supplies and food to the injured and assisting whereever it could.

"The opinion here is that the fire started in a clothes chute," Dr. Tonney said.

The state health department, he said, already had made a survey of the site and was planning a new building. The hospital, although a private institution, was used by most physicians in the area, Dr. Tonney said.
